ANOTHER LOOK AT POLICE STATE BRUTALITY IN CUBA

ARTICLE

b7C

A starkly frightening glimpse of the police state functioning in Cuba under Fidel Castro was revealed recently by [REDACTED] to the Spanish Embassy in Cuba. Writing in the newspaper "El Alcazar" of Madrid, [REDACTED] lists a grimly brutal record of executions, tortures, imprisonments and other oppressions for the period January 1, 1959, to April, 1969.

b7C

According to this information, among those put to death by Cuban internal security forces were 2,320 students (including 17 juveniles) and 20,161 workers, peasants, professional men and merchants while 2,100 persons have been machine-gunned trying to escape Cuba by boat. In addition, there are 7,020 political prisoners in jails, 23,895 in concentration camps, 7,201 in penal farms, and 7,231 in the cells of internal security forces.

Continuing, [REDACTED] alleges that 628,000 Cubans have suffered "preventative imprisonment" and are now closely surveilled; 400,000 workers have lost their jobs and retirement pensions; 600,000 peasants have lost their land and 2,500,000 workers have lost their hard-won labor rights, such as the minimum wage law, a maximum work day, maternity benefits, etc.

b7C

Although [REDACTED] sources are not divulged, his prior position in Cuba and the numerical detail of most of his information lend force to its credibility.

RE: FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CUBA

[REDACTED] who maintains contact with some sources still in Cuba, furnished the following information on June 10, 1969:

Since the first part of 1969, Prime Minister FIDEL CASTRO RUZ has been having long and frequent talks with various officers of his Revolutionary Army and Department of State Security (DSE). Interviews have always been held in various spots in the country but generally not too far from the Havana area. (S)(u)

NEW SECRET MEETING PLACE FOR CASTRO

For over two months CASTRO has been choosing the old Santa Angela Ranch in Matanzas Province on the Central Highway at the exit from the city of Colon going towards the Village of Los Arabos between Reparto Desengano and what was the barracks of the Rural Guard.

This ranch was the property of [REDACTED] who built a very luxurious and comfortable home with all modern electrical equipment and beautiful, comfortable furniture. The CASTRO Government intervened and confiscated this ranch and all of its property over three years ago.

immediately following his arrival, all kinds of vehicles begin to arrive loaded with Army officers and DSE agents, all in olive green uniforms. When these men go to the house, they generally remain from two to three hours during which time they are reportedly conferring with FIDEL CASTRO.

The entire Santa Angela Ranch is well guarded by Revolutionary Army troops and nobody from Colon or Los Arabos is permitted on the ranch land or even to park near it. This control is rigidly enforced by military men who guard the ranch.

ALLEGED ATTEMPT ON LIFE OF FIDEL CASTRO

It was allegedly at this ranch that an attack was recently attempted on the life of FIDEL CASTRO. Reportedly a young Negro soldier was there on guard duty and opened fire on CASTRO with a Czechoslovakian sub-machinegun. However, he was shooting from a considerable distance and was undoubtedly highly excited as he missed entirely and inflicted no wounds on CASTRO. He was immediately seized, tortured, and shot. He apparently did not reveal the names of any conspirators involved with him, if, in fact, there were any other conspirators.

██████████ concluded that almost the entire village of Colon knew about this because of the terrorist measures carried out for several days by agents of the DSE who made the entire area almost unlivable for several days.

The visits to Guatemala and El Salvador were very short, especially in Guatemala, where Nixon's envoy [stayed] for a little over 4 hours surrounded by a heavy security guard. Rockefeller said that 4 hours was enough time to learn about the problems affecting Guatemala. Political commentators said that neither the Yankee petroleum tycoon nor the Guatemalan regime dared make Rockefeller's stay in Guatemala any longer.

At any rate, the wide-open ears of Rockefeller in Guatemala had to listen to the article published by Guatemalan Vice President Clemente Marroquin Rojas in which Rockefeller's trip is criticized and in which he was requested to eliminate that prostitute called the Alliance for Progress. Marroquin Rojas said in his article that Rockefeller's trip is nothing but a trip to inspect the provinces of his empire. He then added that one of the greatest difficulties being encountered by Latin American countries is that while their exportable products have decreased in price, U.S. prices have increased, while the quality of U.S. products has decreased.

Rockefeller then went to Honduras. There the students expressed their protests and told him what Central American countries think of Yankee imperialism. Honduran students yelled "Rockefeller, go home!" and "Down with Yankee imperialism!" In the wide-open ears of Nixon's envoy. The demonstrations were brutally repressed by the police. A young student was killed and dozens were wounded. Shortly before he left for Managua, Rockefeller offered one more demonstration of the contempt which the Yankee imperialists feel for the people of America. The U.S. millionaire, whose fortune was accumulated with the blood of Latin American workers, offered a scholarship for a fellow student of the one murdered by the Honduran police during the demonstrations on his visit. The hypocritical offering was publicly rejected by the Honduran students who stated that the life of one Honduran cannot be paid for with all of Rockefeller's money.

Rockefeller then went to Nicaragua where he met with Anastasio Somoza. Both were protected by an ostentatious display of Nicaraguan National Guardsmen. There, the Yankee tycoon had to listen to the demonstrations of rejection of Sandino's people.

Hostile demonstrations also took place against Rockefeller in San Jose, Costa Rica, and Panama City, last stops on the trip of the Washington envoy. Those demonstrations are a warning of what the wide-open ears of Rockefeller will have to listen to in his next trip through Latin American lands, because what the people of our America want is not to be visited by imperialist envoys who like the New York multimillionaire petroleum tycoon, are unwanted. What our people want is exactly the opposite: all those who one way or another represent Yankee imperialism and who drain, exploit, and murder the people of our America must leave Latin America.

He added that this has created conditions for promoting the construction and growth of the party, and he announced that the aim is to incorporate 10,000 new militants in the province. Assessing that the presence of militants and exemplary workers for carrying out the different tasks of economic construction is a persistent demand, Hart insisted that "a given production plan advances when it has at its head a revolutionary, a fighter, a communist."

"If today we had the number of cadres necessary to do successfully all the tasks on the principal tasks that the ambitious plans of the revolution demand, we would be sure of the possibility of making those plans even more ambitious," the party's organizing secretary said.

In regard to the big tasks to be developed by the country in the next few months, he said that it is necessary to take maximum advantage of the labor force. He recalled that the utilization of the labor force and absenteeism are situations that are resolved by organizing means and political discussions with each worker. "Therefore," he added, "the growth of the party is an objective necessity for the development of production plans." He said that there is a need for thousands and thousands of men for different tasks, but there is also a need for hundreds and hundreds of party militants to march in the vanguard in realizing tasks.

He then explained that to determine what a communist militant should be, one should not start with his virtues or defects, but with his attitude toward the facts of the revolution or the counterrevolution. [REDACTED] emphasized that for party militancy the first requisite is revolutionary activity, revolutionary conduct, a combative attitude, and the line of the revolution. Referring to the work of the rural organizers, he said that if these do not carry out a productive type of work in the region, they lack sufficient authority to carry out political-ideological activity in the struggle against relics of the past.

Finally, he said that the labor movement has considerably raised the quality of its work through the advance movement and he declared that this is becoming a working instrument of the party.

[REDACTED] speech was published today on the ideological page of the newspaper GRANMA, organ of the Central Committee of the Cuban Communist Party.

U.S. CLERGY SUPPORT LIFTING OF CUBAN BLOCKADE

Madrid EFE in Spanish 0458 GMT 18 May 69 C (FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY)

[Text] Mexico City, 17 May-- [REDACTED], a leader of the U.S. Catholic conference, supports the recent Cuban bishops' request for the lifting of the commercial embargo on their country, according to a letter sent to the Social Communications Center (CENCOS) in this capital and made public today.

[REDACTED] of the Latin American division of the conference's international affairs department, says in his letter: "We the Latin American division of the U.S. Catholic conference, share the feeling of the Cuban bishops attitude concerning the human suffering caused by the existing embargo. We urge the government of the United States to give serious consideration to their request and thus have the embargo lifted." The letter adds that they support the request, not for political or economic reasons, "but because we agree with the Cuban bishops that such measures offend the dignity of the Cuban people (?imposing) unjust suffering and deprivation on them."

FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CUBA

Enclosed is copy of letter addressed to Representative Paul G. Rogers (Democrat - Florida) dated 7/14/69 by [REDACTED]. As indicated in the letter, [REDACTED] designated a copy of her communication to Mr. Rogers for the Director and Xerox of the envelope in which the copy was enclosed is also attached. It appears she is identical with [REDACTED] who wrote Congressman Rogers on 4/6/68, copy of which letter was forwarded your office as an enclosure to the Director's letter 4/23/69 to Representative Rogers.

b7C

While the information in [REDACTED] 7/14/69 letter is vague and possibly has no substance, it is desired that your office promptly contact her concerning the identity of the neighbors who have information concerning the many spies allegedly being sent into the U. S. by Castro. Thereafter, the neighbors allegedly possessing the first-hand data should be directly contacted for full details.

b7C

Any substantive data developed should be incorporated in a communication suitable for dissemination and positive leads should be followed up promptly.

Dear Mr. Rogers:

I am writing to you because I feel that you sincerely have the good of our country at heart. I like the way you mail out questionnaires for your citizens to express to you their views. I feel that you sincerely try to represent ME in congress. I do hope that I am right.

We have living next door to us in [REDACTED], a Cuban family who fled from Castro early in Castro's power. They love America and have told me many things which have enlightened me regarding the Communists. According to them, along with the many refugees who come to Miami to escape Castro they also are bringing many spies for Castro and men who come with missions to accomplish in America for the Communists. They cited some of the men who had done plane hijacking for example. They claim that it's a money making Castro scheme. They also state that other Cubans are sent here by the communists for infiltration throughout the country, with "missions" of various sorts. They also state that the good Cubans can frequently tell you who these people are, but that our government will not listen to them when they go to them to tell them about these Castro Cubans, and that if they (the good Cubans) try to do anything about these Castro people themselves they get in trouble with the United States.

ST-106 REG-38 109-12-210-5934
It seems to me that something is going wrong somewhere. It would appear to me that the "good" Cubans could be utilized in some manner to help us locate these who are here for communistic purposes. If this is not being done, I think it should be. For example, I asked my neighbor if he personally could tell me who the Cubans in our town were, and the stand which they took on Castro etc. He said "yes," and implied that in most towns you'd find Cubans who know what was going on among the Cuban refugees and the Castro Cubans, but that it was hopeless to try to do anything about it, for no one would listen to you. He also feels that America is headed for exactly the same fate that Cuba fell to, and that we are just sitting by and allowing it to happen. "And there will be no place to run to," he continued, "when the communists take over America."

CORRESPONDENCE

I do not know what I am trying to tell you to do about this. I am sure that you are wiser in these affairs than I am. I only felt that these opinions should be expressed to someone who has the power to do something constructive about it, rather than just talk about it. I feel that Florida is in particular danger due to the closeness to Cuba. For example, a fleet of Russian ships has been said to be firing miles off our coast this weekend headed for Cuba. Fifty miles is not very far. It's too close for me to be happy about it.

We spend thousands of dollars (or is it billions?) and we send thousands of our young men to Viet Nam to be killed to fight communism, and then we sit quietly by and let the communists set up a strong hold 90 miles off our coast. I feel like a great error is being made and fear for the results for our nation. I think we should stop worrying so much about what's happening half way round the world and look at our own deer steps.

I am not placing the blame on you, Mr. Rogers. I only feel that in a democracy we should complain to our leaders when we are not happy with the ways of our country, and that is what I am doing. I favor ending the Viet Nam war as quickly as possible and paying more attention to what is happening within our own borders and in the countries adjacent to us.

Very truly yours,

Harold Wilson und die Gewerkschaften

(O. Sch.) Die Auseinandersetzung Harold Wilsons mit den Gewerkschaften hat mit einem Kompromiß geendet.

Die Vereinbarung zwischen den Führern des Gewerkschaftsbundes (TUC, Trade-Union-Congress) und Wilson steht vor, daß die Gewerkschaftsführung zum Eingreifen in einen „inoffiziellen“ Streik von dem Augenblick an berechtigt ist, da er eine große Zahl von Arbeitern umfaßt und „ernsthafte Folgen“ für die Wirtschaft des Landes haben kann. Ist der Generalrat der TUC der Auffassung, daß es „unvernünftig“ wäre, die bedingungslose Wiederaufnahme der Arbeit anzuerkennen, so wird er mit allen betroffenen Parteien zur Beilegung des Konflikts zusammenarbeiten.

Ordnet der Generalrat jedoch die Wiederaufnahme der Arbeit an und weigern sich die betroffenen Gewerkschaften, dem nachzukommen, so können sie vom TUC von der Mitgliedschaft suspendiert werden. Es sind in erster Linie die Massen der Arbeiter in den Betrieben und Gewerkschaften, die Wilson zum Rückzug gezwungen haben. Aber auch der Druck innerhalb der Partei selbst. Ein großer Teil der Parlamentsfraktion hat sich gegen die gesetzlichen Strafbestimmungen gegen „wilde“ Streiks ausgesprochen, und er ließ sich auch nicht durch die Drohung mit Neuwahlen nicht davon abbringen. Der Landesausschuß sprach sich mit 16 gegen fünf Stimmen gegen den Gesetzesentwurf aus. Houghton, der Vorsitzende der Parlamentsfraktion, erklärte: „Unsere Einheit und unsere Ziele wiegen schwerer für das Land als die Unannehmlichkeiten eines wilden Streiks.“ Er erklärte ferner, das „Gute“, das aus dem Antistreikgesetz hervorgehen könnte, würde mehr als aufgewogen durch den Schaden, den die Labourbewegung und die Nation durch die Zersetzung und die Niederlage der Partei erleiden würden.

Jedenfalls haben die Gewerkschaften durch das Abkommen der Regelung eine unpopuläre Maßnahme abgenommen, denn das alles beherrschende Milliardenschema (die 1,2 zung zur „Gesundung der Wirtschaft“ zunichte machen kann.

Die Sprache der Statistik

Sind die „wilden Streiks“ wirklich eine solche Gefahr für das britische Wirtschaftsleben, wie es die kapitalistische Presse des In- und Auslandes darstellt? Lassen wir einmal die Statistiker sprechen.

Auf jeden Arbeitstag in Großbritannien entfallen neun Streiks, aber auch 1991 zeitraubende Unfälle. Jedes Jahr gehen drei bis fünf Millionen Arbeitstage durch Streiks verloren, durch die Arbeitslosigkeit jedoch 146 Millionen. Diese Tatsachen ergeben sich aus einer Untersuchung des „Labour Research Department“: „Strikes, Fact or Fancy“ (Streiks, Tatsache oder Einbildung!).

Die entsprechenden Zahlen für 1968 sind die folgenden: Durch Streiks verlorene Arbeitstage 4,6 Millionen; durch Arbeitsunfälle verloren 23 Millionen; durch Arbeitslosigkeit 150 Millionen. (England zählte eine halbe Million Arbeitslose!)

Verluste an Arbeitstagen sind in erster Linie vermeldbar durch die Ausschaltung unfähiger Betriebsleistungen, durch erweiterte Inspektionen und besseren Gesundheitsschutz in den Betrieben, Erhöhung der Schutzvorrichtungen gegen Unfälle und die Bekämpfung künstlicher Arbeitslosigkeit in „nationalen Interessen“.

Das Gesetz, das Wilson dem Parlament vorlegen wollte, wurde von ihm als „grundlegendes Element“ für die Wiederherstellung des Gleichgewichts der Wirtschaft des Landes bezeichnet. Die Tatsachen beweisen, wie wenig eine solche Behauptung wert ist!

Aus der bereits erwähnten Untersuchung geht hervor, daß Großbritannien weniger Streiks hat als andere Länder und daß die Benaupfung, eine „Handvoll“ Männer zu verunmöglichen es Tausenden zu arbeiten, unrichtig ist.

Wir dürfen auch nicht vergessen, daß Großbritannien ein äußerst produktives Unternehmertum besitzt geplante „Gesetz zur Beilegung von Arbeitskonflikten“ werde Labour wieder Stimmen aus dem Kleinbürgertum und von Stehtragenproletariern zuführen.

Zweifellos ist eine gewisse Gewerkschaftsfeindlichkeit vorhanden; denn alle Mittel der öffentlichen Beeinflussung, auch das Fernsehen, werden gegen sie massiv eingesetzt.

Zu dem bereits erfolgten Stimmenverlust sind aber weitere hinzugekommen.

Der Stimmenverlust Labours bei den kürzlichen Gemeindevahlen, der sich im Verlust von 600 Sitzen äußerte, ist nur in geringem Umfang auf die Abwanderung von Labourwählern zu den Konservativen zurückzuführen. Große Massen, die Labour wählen, bleiben aus tiefer Enttäuschung über die Politik Wilsons den Urnen fern. Sie sind über die nicht gehaltenen Versprechungen Wilsons empört; trotz der Abwertung der britischen Währung hat sich die Lage nicht verbessert, sondern weiter verschlechtert. Die Lebenskosten steigen, die Regierung aber dekretiert Lohnstopp. Anstatt mit dem Antistreikgesetz Wähler zu gewinnen, verliert Labour seine feste Grundlage. Die Arbeiterwähler: Diese wollen nicht, daß ihre Stimmabgabe als eine Unterstützung Wilsons gedeutet werde. Selbstverständlich werden diese Stimmung von der Labourlinken und den Kommunisten bekämpft. Gegenwärtig überwiegt leider die Enttäuschung alles anderen.

Dabei muß man sich vor Augen halten, daß es fast ein Jahrhundert des Kampfes von 1832 bis 1929 – bedurfte, bis das britische Volk freie, geheime und allgemeine Wahlrecht errang. Wie tief muß die Enttäuschung sein, wenn Tausende und aber Tausende von Arbeitern auf ein so teuer erkämpftes Recht verzichten.

Keine sozialistische Partei

Die Erbitterung der Arbeiter darf jedoch nicht darauf zurückgeführt werden, weil sie etwa Wilson, des Verrats am Sozialismus beschuldigen. Weder das Wahlprogramm der Labourpartei von 1964 noch jenes von 1966 warons sozialistisches Programm. Wilsons strategischer Plan bei den letzten Wahlen war, zu be-das Recht ein, Strafen zu fällen. Das Gericht zur Beurteilung von Streikfällen in der Industrie „Industrial Court“) hat das Recht, streikende Gewerkschaften für jeden Streiktag mit 500 Dollar (zirka 2150 Schweizer Franken) Buße zu belegen. Gewerkschaftsfunktionäre können zu Geldstrafen und Gefängnisstrafen verurteilt werden. Im Verlaufe der Jahre hat diese Gesetzgebung die Gewerkschaften Australiens Millionen Dollars gekostet.

Diese ständig drohenden Geld- und Gefängnisstrafen haben schließlich zur größten Streikbewegung in Australien während der letzten 80 Jahre geführt. Sie erfaßte explosionsartig eine Million Arbeiter, das heißt etwa die Hälfte aller Industriearbeiter und etwa die Hälfte der organisierten Arbeiter und Angestellten.

Ausgelöst wurde die Bewegung durch die Einsperung von Charlie O'Shea, Sekretär der Tram- und Busangestellten Victorias. Er hatte sich geweigert, die gegen seine Gewerkschaft insgesamt ausgesprochenen Bußen von 8000 Dollars (zirka 34 000 Schweizer Franken) zu bezahlen.

Die dadurch hervorgerufene Bewegung ging auch noch weiter, nachdem O'Shea freigelassen und die Geldstrafen von „unbekannter Seite“ bezahlt worden waren.

Die Gewerkschaft lehnte „einen Entscheid ab, wonach die Autobusse nur durch einen, statt wie bisher zwei Männer, hätten geführt werden müssen. Sie trat schließlich dagegen in den Streik und wurde dafür gebüßt. Das Appellationsgericht gab den Arbeitern Recht. Trotzdem wurden die Bußen aufrechterhalten und nicht einmal das Recht auf Zahlung in Raten eingeräumt. Auch andere Gewerkschaften lehnten es hierauf ab, die gegen sie ausgesprochenen Bußen zu bezahlen. Auch sie traten in den Proteststreik. Die Regierung sah sich deshalb gezwungen, mit den Gewerkschaften Verhandlungen aufzunehmen. Sie wird auf die Dauer die Strafbestimmungen, die seinerzeit vom rechten Flügel der australischen Arbeiterpartei durchgesetzt worden waren, nicht mehr aufrechterhalten können.

Die australischen Erfahrungen von mehr als zwanzig Jahren Strafbestimmungen haben die Argumente jener erschüttert, die die Einführung ähnlicher Bestimmungen in Groß-milzte zum Nebeneingang für Arbeiter. „Du arbeitest wohl da oben, Kumpel“, fragte er.

„Nein, hier unten, Kumpel“, antwortete der Mann mit der Stoffmütze. Und Keir Hardie, der 14 Jahre später der erste Führer der Labourpartei werden sollte, ging ins Parla-ment, um die Arbeiter als „Verbreiter der Arbeitslosen“ zu bezeichnen. Er war damals als unabhängiges Parlamentariermitglied eines Londoner Arbeiterwahlbezirks ins Parlament eingezogen. Als einziger Arbeiter nicht nur eine Zielscheibe von Hohn und Spott, sondern auch von der Bourgeoisie des Landes geführt für das, was er repräsentierte: die Arbeiterklasse.

Damals glaubten die Gewerkschaften noch, ihre Ziele am besten durch ein Bündnis mit der Liberalen Partei erreichen zu können. (So wie bei uns, vor der Gründung der Sozialdemokratischen Partei, viele Arbeiter ihre Vertretung im schweizerischen Freisinn sahen.)

Die im Jahre 1900 von den Gewerkschaften, Genossenschaften und anderen sozialistischen Organisationen gegründete Labourpartei beteiligte sich erstmals 1906 an den Parlamentswahlen. Zur Verblüfung der Liberalen und Konservativen wurden 323 195 Stimmen für die neue Partei abgegeben und 29 Labourabgeordnete zogen mit Keir Hardie an der Spitze, ins Parlament ein.

An einer großen Siegesteier, am 16. Februar 1906 in London, erklärte Keir Hardie: „Der schlafende Riese erwacht, und in sehr naher Zukunft wird die Arbeiterschaft in der Politik der bestimmende Faktor sein, nicht nur potentiell, sondern tatsächlich und in Wirklichkeit.“

Im halben Jahrhundert seither waren vier Labourregierungen an der Macht, und die fünfte ist gegenwärtig im Amt.

Einst wollte Labour nicht nur die bestehenden Verhältnisse verbessern, sondern die Gesellschaft verändern. Noch 1918 bezeichnete die Partei als eines ihrer grundsätzlichen Ziele, „den Hand- und Kopfarbeitern... eigentums an Produktionsmitteln, der Verteilung und des Austausches die vollen Früchte ihres Fleißes zu sichern.“

bourpartei besitzt nicht einmal eine eigene Tageszeitung, das Unternehmertum und die Konservativen werden die Vereinbarungen benutzen, um die Gewerkschaften unter Druck zu setzen. Hinter all dem lauert noch die Drohung der Regierung, die Strafbestimmungen doch noch vor das Parlament zu bringen, falls die Gewerkschaften nicht den »Wilden Streiks« Einhalt gebieten könnten. Mit der Liquidierung des Kolonialreiches hat in Großbritannien ein Prozeß der Anpassung an die neuen Verhältnisse eingesetzt, der noch nicht abgeschlossen ist. Man kann daher nicht den Arbeitern die Verantwortung für die heutigen Verhältnisse aufbürden.

Anstatt zum Beispiel den Selbstbehalt für Gebisse und Brillen herauszusetzen, eine Maßnahme, von der in erster Linie die Ärmsten der Armen betroffen werden, sollte Wilson die Militärausgaben reduzieren, und anstatt die Gewerkschaften als Sündenbock hinzustellen, sollte er gegen die Währungsspekulationen losgehen und die riesigen Dollarinvestitionen des britischen Großkapitals in den USA liquidieren. Damit könnten die Schulden Großbritanniens beglichen und das Land aus den Händen des internationalen Bankkapitals befreit werden, das jederzeit die Maßnahmen der Regierung strahlfür Prüfung erwarteten. Sie meisterten das britische Examen und arbeiten jetzt mit einem »horario por concidencia«, denn die Fabrik soll 1971 bereits produzieren.

Beispiel Reis

Dieser Betrieb ist für die Entwicklung der kubanischen Landwirtschaft von äußerster Wichtigkeit. Da Kuba nur den Vorteil eines außergewöhnlich günstigen Klimas für die Landwirtschaft hat, lag es auf der Hand, auf diesem Gebiet die größten Anstrengungen zu unternehmen, um die Unterentwicklung zu überwinden.

Um nur einige wichtige Beispiele zu nennen: Das kubanische Hauptnahrungsmittel, der Reis, der bis 1960 zu rund 70 Prozent aus Burma und einigen südamerikanischen Staaten eingeführt wurde, konnte nach Beginn der amerikanischen Wirtschaftsblockade nur von der Volksrepublik China bezogen werden. Als China 1965 erklärte, nicht mehr die gewünschte Menge liefern zu können, mußte die Reisquote pro Kopf halbiert werden. Gleichzeitig wurde aber begonnen, große Flächen Oedland und Dschungel urbar zu machen.

Heute, nach einer gewaltigen Anstrengung der »Brigada Che Guevara«, die mit freiwilligen Stadtbewohnern und schweren Bulldozern das Oedland rodet, ist die Lage eine vollkommen andere. Reis wird mit Flugzeugen gesät. Auf die gleiche Art wird auch die Schädlings- und Unkrautvernichtung durchgeführt. Dann wird die Ernte mit modernen Kombines eingebracht. Die Reisquote konnte heuer wieder verdoppelt werden, und nächstes Jahr wird Kuba bereits unabhängig von Reiseinführen sein ...

Dieses Jahr

Wie jedes Jahr, so hat auch das heurige einen Namen bekommen. Es ist das Jahr des »estuerzo decisivo«, der »entscheidenden Anstrengung«.

Das ganze Land nimmt heuer an der Zuckerkampagne teil. Es will und in wenigen Ländern die Gewinn- und der Kapitalisten so groß sind wie hier. Viele Arbeitskonflikte wären vermeidbar. Selbst bei »Wilden« oder sogenannten »spontanen« Streiks ergreift sich immer wieder, daß ihnen lange, fruchtlose Verhandlungen vorausgingen, bis den Arbeitern zuletzt der Geduldsfaden riß.

Zu meinem Erstaunen hat selbst das Schweizer Radio in einem Bericht über die Dockenstreiks im Zusammenhang mit der Verwendung von Containern bei Schiffen (durch den die viele Hafenarbeiter brotlos werden) die Berechtigung der Forderung der Arbeiter nach einem Ausgleich und einer Umschulung der arbeitenden geworden oder werdenden Dockarbeiter anerkannt.

Wer übrigens je im Zusammenhang mit der Arbeiterbewegung stand, weiß, daß der Streik ein Mittel ist, zu dem die Proletarier erst greifen, wenn ihnen keine andere Möglichkeit mehr bleibt; bedeutet er doch für sie und ihre Familien Not und Entbehrung und in vielen Fällen Aussperrung und Verlust des Arbeitsplatzes.

Antistreckgesetz und Wahlen

Wilsons Argument war auch, die öffentliche Meinung sei gegen die Gewerkschaften eingestellt, und das das kapitalistische System »bessere« funktionieren werde als unter den Konservativen. Die heutige Arbeiterpartei will den Kapitalismus nicht beseitigen, sondern »renovieren«. In allen ihren traditionellen Wahlprogrammen stellte sich Labour als die Partei der Reformen im Rahmen des Kapitalismus, als die Partei der vermehrten Sozialleistungen hin. Da sie sich organisatorisch auf den Massenorganisationen der Arbeiterschaft, den Gewerkschaften, der Gewerkschaftsbewegung (neben den Einzelmitgliedern der Partei usw.) aufbaut, wird sie von vielen als der politische Verfechter der Interessen der Arbeiterklasse betrachtet. Labour aber ist schon längst (wie unsere Sozialdemokratie auch) zum Gefangen des Systems geworden. Die Bedürfnisse des Großkapitals, die wachsenden Schwierigkeiten der durch Krisen erschütterten Wirtschaft des britischen Kapitalismus lassen für Manöver nur noch wenig Raum.

Das australische Beispiel

Eines schönen Tages im Jahre 1992 hielt der diensthabende Polizist vor dem Parlamentsgebäude in London einen bärtigen Mann in schäbiger Kleidung an. Es waren damals gerade Dacharbeiten im Gange, und der Polizist verwies den Mann im blauen Arbeitsanzug und der Stoff-

Was für Folgen überragten die von Wilson geplanten Sanktionen gegen »wilde Streiks« hervorrufen können, dafür liefert Australien ein Beispiel. Das 1949 dort eingeführte Gesetz zur Verhinderung von Streiks räumt dem obligatorischen Schiedsgericht kann man erst ahnen, wenn man weiß, daß das kubanische Rind, eine afrikanische Cebrurasse, fast keine Milch gibt. Es war erst durch die Einführung von Holsteinzüchtlern und die Errichtung von mehr als 3000 Stationen für künstliche Bestäubung möglich, in großem Maßstab eine neue Milchgeisse heranzuzüchten, die den klimatischen Bedingungen Kubas voll entspricht. In wenigen Jahren wird diese »Revolution« im Bereich der Viehzucht Kuba bereits sieben Millionen Rinder – ihre vollen Früchte tragen.

Was nun?

Es gibt keine andere Möglichkeit mehr, als eine linksgerichtete Politik, die sich logischerweise gegen die Reichen richtet oder weiter im Rahmen des Systems zu handeln und Angriff auf Angriff gegen die Lebensbedingungen des Volkes zu führen. Wilson hat sich ganz diesem Kurs verschrieben. Er reduziert Sozialleistungen und läßt die Reichen so gut wie ungeschoren. Ja, die Regierung einer Partei, die von den Gewerkschaften aufgebaut wurde, ist bemüht, Antigerwerkschaftsgesetze durchzusetzen.

Heute beherrschen Enttäuschung und Erbitterung über die Wilsonsche Politik breite Arbeitermassen. Die Aufgabe der Linken innerhalb der Labourpartei und den Gewerkschaften und der Kommunisten ist es, die britischen Arbeiter durch ein standhaftes Eintreten für die Interessen des arbeitenden Volkes aufzurufen und für eine neue, wahrhaft sozialistische Politik zu gewinnen.

Alle diese Arbeiten werden unter schwierigsten Bedingungen von der heutigen kubanischen Generation durchgeführt, ohne daß sie an »Sonderzahlungen« oder sonstige persönliche Vergünstigungen denkt. Die Worte Che Guevaras, daß eine wirkliche Revolution jegliche Form von persönlichem Egoismus ausschließt, sind nicht »romantisch«, sondern eine Realität in Kuba.

britannien befuhrworteten. Diese Erfahrungen haben gezeigt, daß sich die Spannungen nicht nur nicht verringern, sondern noch verstärken, ja zu wahren Explosionen des Unmuts führen.

Die Warnstreiks britischer Gewerkschaften am 1. Mai, die rund 200 000 Arbeiter erfaßten, sind ein Mahnzeichen an die Regierung, den Bogen nicht zu überspannen.

Den meisten Streiks gehen Diskussionen zwischen den Arbeitern und den Unternehmern voraus. In den wenigen Fällen, wo dies nicht der Fall ist, sind die Streiks darauf zurückzuführen, daß die Unternehmer Dinge durchsetzen wollen, ohne die Arbeiter vorher darüber zu befragen. Die Regierung aber möchte sich die Möglichkeit schaffen, gegen jeden Streik vorzugehen, der ihrer Auffassung nach »ungesetzlich« ist. So hätte sie beispielsweise das zurückgestellte Gesetz im Januar gekönnen, nachdem der Generalpostmeister jede Diskussion über die Forderung der Postangestellten ablehnt hatte. Es sei denn, meinte er weiter, der Streikfalle werde vor das Schiedsgericht für Staatsangelegenheiten gebracht. Dieser »offizielle« nicht »wilde Streik« wäre auf Grund des geplanten Gesetzes »verfassungswidrig« gewesen und die Postangestellten wären geblüßt worden!

BASEL

(R. K.) Vor fünfzig Jahren kam es in Basel als Solidaritätsaktion für die Lohnerhöhung fordernden Färbearbeiter zu dem vom Arbeiterbund proklamierten Generalstreik. Er dauerte vom 31. Juli bis zum 8. August. Nicht nur Polizei, sondern auch Militär (Infanterieregiment 21, Gudenabteilung 4 und Hilfswachen) wurden gegen die baslerische Arbeiterschaft eingesetzt. Von Militärfirem aus wurde mit Maschinengewehren in die demonstrierenden Arbeiter geschossen. Fünf Tote waren die Folge dieses verbrecherischen Vorgehens.

Noch wirkte die Empörung über den schmachlich abgebrochenen Landesgeneralstreik im November 1918 in der Basler Arbeiterschaft nach. Das war Friedrich Schneider (Hilfswache Roggenbach) so schüttele. „Es war ein Zusammenbruch, wie er furchtbarer nicht gedacht werden konnte.“ Das Vertrauen in die Führung der damaligen Sozialdemokratischen Partei und der Gewerkschaften war erschüttert. Es brauchte nur einen Funken, um die baslerische Arbeiterschaft in eine mächtige Aktion zu bringen.

Wieder einmal, vor 30 Jahre zuvor, waren es die Färbearbeiter. Misserabel bezahlte Arbeiter, unter dem Druck der schweren Zeiten leidend, dem „Herr-in-Haus“-Regime ausgesetzt, verlangten sie bessere Löhne und bessere Behandlung. Weil die Herren der Fabrikerei, die Herren der Fabrikerei, nicht nachgeben wollten, spitzte sich der Konflikt zu. Zuletzt hatte die mehrheitlich bürgerliche Regierung ein Schiedsgericht eingesetzt. Dessen Schiedsspruch verwurften die Färbearbeiter. Sie beschlossen den Streik.

Arbeiterbund solidarisch mit dem Streik

Die Delegierten des Arbeiterbundes, die Dachorganisation der gewerkschaftlich und politisch organisierten Arbeiter, hatte sich für den Fall des Streiks mit den Färbearbeitern solidarisch erklärt. Mit der Unterstützung des Färbearbeiterstreiks wurde der Protest gegen die Färberei verbunden, und verlangt wurde die Senkung des Brotpreises, Beschlagnahme der Schuhr- und Stofflager sowie einen energischen Kampf gegen den Mietzinswucher. So wurde am 31. Juli 1919 der Streik der Färbearbeiter zum Basler Generalstreik.

Es waren vor allem die jungen Arbeiter, „Jungburschen“, wie sie sich nannten, die bei dieser Aktion treu blieben. Die Söhne und Töchter sie dort, vor dem geschlossenen Kasernenhof, ohne Warnung mit einer Gewehrsalve empfielen! Auch hier wieder Verwundete.

Die Blutbühnen der Wälder der Soldateska, drei Frauen und zwei Männer tot

So hatte der Basler Generalstreik die ganze Scharte der Klassengegenseitig ausgedrückt gebracht: hier die eine und kriegentlassene Arbeiterschaft gegen die Teuerung. Mietzinswucher und Kriegsgewinnler, in Solidarität mit den Färbearbeitern, auf der anderen Seite ein reaktionäres Bürgertum mit seinen Machtmitteln. Die Arbeiter, mit allen Machtmitteln bürgerlicher Staat, Polizei und Militär, brutal seine Klassenprivilegien verfechtend, und die Forderungen der Arbeiterschaft mit Hohn ablehnend. Das war es die damaligen Verhältnisse.

Da sich die Solidaritätsaktionen in der übrigen Schweiz, mit Ausnahme eines kurzfristigen Streiks in Zürich, nicht ausdehnten, beschloß die Delegiertenversammlung des Arbeiterbundes in der Nacht vom 7. auf den 8. August gegen eine große Mehrheit den sofortigen Streikabbruch. Was diesem Streikabbruch, gegen die Meinung der Mehrheit, folgte, das waren die Hunderte von Arbeitergebeten. Das Fazit? Die Arbeiterschaft hat die Botschaft in ihrer wahren Gestalt kennengelernt: die Arbeiterschaft hat darüber hinaus sowohl die Kraft ihrer Aktion erkannt, die Schwäche ihrer Führung erkannt. Die Konsequenz war die Bildung der kommunistischen Partei.

Das koalierte Bürgertum allerdings mußte erfahren, daß Polizei- und Militärgewalt nicht lösende, geschweige denn, den Gegensatz zwischen Kapital und Arbeit aufzuheben. Solange die kapitalistische Herrschaft besteht, besteht auch dieser Gegensatz.

Sie wusste es, tat aber nichts!

Bereits vor sieben Jahren reichte R. Krebs im Großen Rat einen Antrag ein, der das Begehren enthielt, „den Vorrang des öffentlichen Verkehrs vor sieben Jahren reichte antrag wird, in der Liegenschaft „Castellmont“ in Davos ein Heim für asthmakranke Kinder einzurichten. „Asthma bronchiale“, so erfährt man, „läßt sich als auf Überempfindlichkeitsreaktionen beruhende Lungenkrankheit definieren, insbesondere charakterisiert durch meist anfallsweise auftretenden Luft hunger bei keuchender Atmung“, die den ganzen Mensch in Mitleiden schaft zieht. Es handelt sich dabei um eine eigentliche Volkskrankheit, wobei die Umweltfaktoren (Einflüsse der modernen Industrie und Gesellschaft) höhere krankmachende Ursachen bildeten als erbliche Veranlagung. Weil die Kinder dem „Asthma bronchiale“ stärker ausgesetzt sind als die Erwachsenen, wird gefordert, daß „die Früherfassung des Leidens und möglichst komplexe Therapie besonders wichtig“ sei.

Man dürfe sich nicht auf die medikamentöse Behandlung verlassen. Manche der „wirksamen“ Mittel seien für die Kranken sogar nachteilig, wenn diese nicht unter ärztlicher Kontrolle eingenommen würden. Da die Behandlung des Asthmas auch psychotherapeutische Maßnahmen zur Überwindung der Angst und Hemmungen erfordert, sei die beste Lösung, die die kranken Kinder in einer klimatisch günstigen Lage unterzubringen, wo auch ein entsprechendes therapeutisches Programm durchgeführt werden könne. Dies könne nur mit der erreicht werden. Seit zehn Jahren bemühe man sich darum. „Castellmont“ in Davos mit alpinem Klima (1560 m ü. M.) wäre dafür geeignet. Es gehört dem Kanton Basel-Stadt und wird als Sanatorium infolge Rückgangs der Tuberkulose nicht mehr verwendet. Zuerst aber sollte „Castellmont“ als Station für nicht spezifische Lungenerkrankungen Verwendung finden. Andererseits bewilligte der Große Rat den Erwerb von Land im „Höhwald“ (Davos-Wolfgang), um dort ein Heim für asthmakranke Kinder zu schaffen. Dieser Neubau scheiterte aber daran, daß er gemäß Dringlichkeitsordnung für öffentliche Bauvorhaben erst in drei Jahren werden können. Es ergiebt sich deshalb, daß die Liegenschaft „Castellmont“ für diesen Zweck auszunutzen, zumal es

(13) Gewiß, der Herr Regierungspräsident Arnold Schneider hat auf dem Bruderholz am 1. August keine konformistische Rede gehalten. Das ist nicht seine Art. Er hat, mitten in die Dinge hinein, sich mit den „Progressiven“, mit deren Aktion gegen die Tramalexerhöhung befaßt. Er hat auch die jungen Protestler nicht verurteilt, denn das liegt ihm nicht. Er hat Verständnis für die aufbrechende Jugend. So vernahm man es zum mindesten. Aber, und darin steckt der Pferdefuß, suggestiv stellte er die Frage: „Sind denn den jugendlichen Demonstranten wirklich nur um die „Sauberheit“, also um die Tramalexerhöhung, gegangen sei. Schon diese Anspielung war nicht fair.

Demagogisch aber war die Andeutung des Herrn Regierungspräsidenten, die jugendlichen Demonstranten seien möglicherweise (!) von einer Partei, nämlich von der Partei der Arbeit (was er zwar verschwiegen) gesteuert worden.

Solche regierungspräsidiale Redewendungen vertreten nur das schlechte Gewissen. Man culpa (meine eigene Schuld), Herr Regierungspräsident, wäre auftrüggiger gewesen. Die Regierung verging ihre erteilte Aufträge, die BVV, auf die Verkehrspolitik von Grund auf zu überprüfen. Sie war es, die demokratisch vorgebrachte Begehren leerlaufen ließ. Sie hat die Empörung gegen die idiotische Tramtarifpolitik wegwendend als „üblich“ bewertet, und sich hochmütig geweiht, öffentlich vor den Demonstranten, sich zu stellen. In der Tat: sie hat durch ihr Verhalten provoziert, provoziert durch die Ignorierung der Normen einer wirklich lebendigen Demokratie, was sie jetzt der Partei der Arbeit in die Schuhe schreiben möchte. So billig, Herr alt Waisenhausvater und jetziger Regierungspräsident, kommen Sie und Ihre Kollegen nicht davon. Die Regierung wird von ihrer Schuld nicht amnestiert. Schon gar nicht für ihren Befehl, die Polizei auf wehrlose Demonstranten loszulassen.

A propos Steuerung der jugendlichen Demonstrationen durch die Partei der Arbeit: Die PdA hat offen und öffentlich die Aktionen der jugendlichen Demonstranten begrüßt und sich mit ihnen solidarisiert. Nur der Arbeiter aus der chemischen Industrie, aus den Härtelern, von Bau- und Holzarbeitern, von Straßenbahnern, Eisenbahnern und solchen des graphischen Gewerbes. Aber gestern wie heute wurden diese jungen Arbeiter (heute die studentische Jugend) vom Bürgerum beschimpft: "Verfaule Schicht arbeitscheues Gesindel" (so die "nationalen" Parteien in einem Aufruf).

Polizei, Militär, "Argumente-gegen Streikende"

Mit den streikenden Arbeitern zogen die Jugendlichen von Betrieb zu Betrieb, um sie stillzulegen. Auch die Schließung der Ladenlokale wurde durchgesetzt. So vor allem in Kleinbasel. In Großbasel kam es zu Zusammenstößen mit brutalen aufstrebenden Polizei. So trieben 40 auf Lastwagen entladene Polizisten mit blankem Säbel streikende und demonstrierende Arbeiter vor der "Baloise" auseinander. Es gab Verwundete. Bekannt

"An die Redaktion des Basler 'Vorwärts', Basel:

Nachdem die bürgerliche Presse immer noch am Erscheinen gehindert wird, verfügt das Plakatkommando Basel:

Das Erscheinen des 'Vorwärts' im bisherigen Umfange ist untersagt. Es ist der Redaktion jedoch gestattet, täglich Bulletin im gleichen Umfang herauszugeben, wie das der bürgerlichen Presse möglich ist. Der Umfang dieses Bulletins wird der Redaktion des 'Vorwärts' vom Plakatkommando Basel jeden Morgen bis elf Uhr mitgeteilt werden.

Sobald die Streikleitung für die Bedienung der Druckereien dieselben Ausnahmen über die Durchführung des Streikes verfügt, wie sie schon bezüglich anderer Gewerbe erlassen hat, und damit das ungehinderte Erscheinen der Presse ermöglicht, wird obige Verfügung zurückgezogen.

Wenn trotz dieser Verfügung der 'Vorwärts' in vollem Umfange erscheint, so würden wir gezwungen sein, das Gebäude zu besetzen.

Da der 'Vorwärts' sich natürlich nicht an diesen militärischen Befehl hielt, erfolgte dann bereits in den ersten Augusttagen des Jahres 1919 die Besetzung der Genossenschaftsdruckerei am Brunngäßlein 3.

Privation des wachsenden vom privaten Verkehr

Drastisch, aber durchaus wirklichkeitsgetreu ist diese Schilderung der Verkehrsverhältnisse. Innerer mehr wurde das öffentliche Verkehrsmittel zum Mauerblumchen degradiert: zum Nachteil der BYB selbst und der auf sie angewiesenen Bevölkerung. Konsequenzen hat die Regierung aus dieser Entwicklung keine gezogen. Und doch: Sie hat, wie ich und je nach dem BYB-Benützer das Fahren selbst verteuert!

Muß einer so überhöhten Regierung nicht mit dem Zaumfahl (Demonstrationen, Transchieneblöcke) gekümmert werden, was es geschlagen hat? Dies war in der Tat die "ultima ratio" das letzte Mittel).

"Castelmont" für asthmakranke Kinder

(Is) 300 Familien mit asthmakranken Kindern seien den Basler Schulärzten bekannt. Eine erhebliche Dunkelziffer müsse zusätzlich angenommen werden. Dies geht aus dem rechnerischen Ratschlag an den Großen Rat hervor, in welchem be-

Italiener an, benahm sich so, als ob er ein Polizist wäre und ließ sich vom Italiener in dessen Zimmer führen. Er gab vor, er müsse nach einem Stelmesser, einer Schußwaffe und einem Portemonnaie fahnden, wozu letzteres im benachbarten Restaurant gestohlen worden sei.

Ganz nach polizeilicher Manier tastete er den Italiener ab, behauptete dessen Paß und Portemonnaie und befahl ihm schließlich in einem anmutigen Ton, sich auszuziehen und sich mit dem Gesicht nach unten auf Bett zu legen. Bei dieser Gelegenheit stahl er aus dem Portemonnaie des Italieners eine Hunderternote. Da inzwischen und ein weiterer Italiener ins Zimmer trat, spielte der Scheinpolizist seine Rolle weiter. Auch diesen gegenüber behauptete er Polizist zu sein und nach dem Portemonnaie zu suchen zu müssen, zog es dann aber vor, zu verschwinden.

Das Gericht verurteilte den Delinquenten zu drei Monaten Gefängnis. Es qualifizierte ihn als "Schwachsinziger", was aber nichts an dessen sich dabei nicht um einen Neubau, vielmehr nur um eine Renovation handelt, die sofort ausgeführt werden konnte und für 30 Kinderpatienten eine umfassende heilpädagogische Führung ermöglichte. Das erworbene Land "Hörschwald" blieb als Landesreserve erhalten.

Die Kosten für die Ausführung dieses Projektes werden mit 1 100 000 Franken errechnet: Umbaukosten 596 000 Franken, vorfinanzierter Schulpavillon (für die Heimkehrer) 215 000 Franken, Mobiliar 231 000 Franken. Im Rahmen der Invalidenversicherung kann an die Kosten ein Bundesbeitrag von einem Drittel erwartet werden. Personalbestand

Es ist folgender Personalbestand vorgesehen: Hauseltern, zwei Lehrkräfte, vier diplomierte Erzieherinnen, eine Physiotherapeutin, eine Laborantin (zugleich Sekretarin), eine Köchin, zwei Hausmädchen und zwei Praktikantinnen sozialer Schulpflicht. Die Betriebskosten belaufen sich auf 333 000 Franken, das heißt nach Abzug der Beiträge der Eltern (45 000 Franken) der Leistungen des Personals für Kost und Logis (27 000 Franken) und der Beiträge der Invalidenversicherung an Schulung, therapeutischen Maßnahmen, Betriebsdefizit gemeiner Handlungsweise ändert. Und gerade das ist der Punkt, der für den Vorgang typisch ist. Soviel wollte nämlich dieser "schwachsinzige" Dieb, daß er sich nur an Italiener heranmachen müsse, um mit freistem Auftreten zu seinem Ziel zu gelangen, weil die Italiener wehrlos sind. Sie sind gerade dazu recht, den Unternehmern zu höheren Preisen zu verhelfen. Rechte haben sie keine. Den Unternehmern und skrupellosen Hausbesitzern sind sie als Ausbeutungsobjekte willkommen. Wehe ihnen, wenn sie sich dagegen zur Wehr setzen. Die Landesverwaltung ist ihnen sicher.

Wundert man sich da, daß die ausländischen Arbeiter durch solche bürokratische Behandlung "eingeschubiert und verängstigt" werden, glauben sich alles bieten lassen zu müssen? Das hat der Gerichtskorrespondent der "National-Zeitung" verstanden, während die "Basler Nachrichten", bei jeglichen Einfühlungsvermögen in die Situation der rechtlosen ausländischen Arbeiter, überheblich und fast spöttisch von deren "Unbeholfenheit" schreiben.

diese Aktionen, dies muß betont werden, haben endlich die gesamte Verkehrspolitik zur Diskussion gestellt. Daß es solcher Aktionen bedurfte, zeigt, wie verkalbt unsere hochgelobte Demokratie ist. Daß die Regierung glaubte, an die Polizeigewalt appellieren zu müssen, offenbart nur ihre Schwäche und das Eingeständnis ihres Versagens

In diesem Sinne beantragt die Regierung, den Kredit von 1 100 000 Franken zu bewilligen, wobei der Bundesbeitrag in Abzug gebracht wurde. Der Ausbau könnte somit sofort nach der Kreditgenehmigung in Angriff genommen werden, da die Dringlichkeitsordnung, in diesem Falle nicht spielt.

Eine zweite Interpellation wegen der Tramdemonsstrationen ist eingereicht worden. Von Pierrat Dr. E. Hedinger, der der SP-Großfraktion angehört. Sie geht auf gegenseitige Versöhnung aus, kritisiert aber den von der Regierung befohlenen Polizeieinsatz.

In den nächsten Tagen, so teilt das Baudirektorat mit, kann die Fußgängerüberführung an der Kreuzung Klybeckstraße/Dreirosenstrasse dem Verkehr übergeben werden. Am 23. soll sie offiziell eingeweiht werden.

Aus dem Lager der Lehrer der Allgemeinen Gewerbeschule ist das Interdikt gegen die schulpflichtigen Freitags der Pflichtstundenzeit erlassen worden und zustande gekommen. Es wird somit zu einer Volksabstimmung kommen.

Die "Freie oppositionelle Partei" droht die Entregung einer Initiative an mit dem Bemerken, es seien die parlamentarischen "Häufelchen" der "Freie" nicht imstande, die "Freie" zu sein.

Wie bereits gemeldet, wird nun offiziell bestätigt, daß der bisherige Sekretär der Radikaldemokratischen Partei, Jürgen Zimmermann, zur Deputationen hüberwechselt. Ihm zur Seite werde der bisherige Leiter der Schweizerischen Deputationen, Fridolin Leuzinger, stehen. Genau so, wie es vorausgesagt worden war.

Propheten gellen bekanntlich nichts in eigenen Land. Nun möchten wir zwar nicht behaupten, daß in Diogenes alles Propheten wörrn, aber was vor allem die ältere Generation betrifft, kann sie für sich beanspruchen, daß sie die Eigenschaften des Takas kennt, weil sie seit Jahrhunderten das Land besaßen. Seit die politische Unmuthabnahme der Autobahn durch das Baschland realisiert wurde, gab es immer wieder Folgen, wie sie sich jetzt in Gefangen und zwei Jahre zuvor überhaupt Dingen ereigneten sind. Man würde auch an zuständiges Oriten, daß die Autobahn im Distrikt durch Gebiete geführt wird, in denen der Volksmund sagt, daß in Baum, der im Herbst abgepflanzt wurde, im Frühling darauf nicht mehr im gleichen Ort steht. Aber trotzdem wurde draußes aufgeteilt. Wir wissen auch aus eigener Erfahrung, daß es in jenem Baschabschnitt der jetzt ins Tal wünschende Leute gab, die auf Grund von Gesprächen mit der Döbberkennung mit gemischten Gefühlen die Arbeit in Angriff nahmen. Man kann jetzt offiziell die Dinge darstellen, wie man will, nicht nur im politischen, sondern vor im kulturellen ist, das Volk jedenfalls der Meinung, daß eben die Autobahn als ein Schritt in den Rauschungen gewachsen ist und daß man bei der Wahl einer anderen Variante viel Geld hätte sparen können.

An der internationalen polygraphischen Ausstellung in Moskau wurden 700 „Schreibkäse“, an der mehr als 700 Firmen aus 30 Ländern teilnehmen, von der Zentrale für Handelsförderung der organisierten offiziellen Pavillon vertreten. Wie die Agentur Novosti berichtet, gehörte die Schweiz zu diesem Pavillon, an den bedeutendsten Teilnehmern der Messe, die fast alle schweizerischen Exportfirmen mit Namen ihre Erzeugnisse ausstellten. Der Vertreter der Schweizerischen Zentrale für Handelsförderung — auch der neue „Schweizerische Botschafter in der Sowjetunion“ J. de Sclutz, war an der Pressekonferenz anwesend — hob hervor, daß viele der ausgestellten Maschinen von sowjetischen Organisationen schon längst aufzukaufen seien und daß in einigen sowjetischen Großdruckereien wie der „Franko“ und der „Iskwesthina“ schweizerische Druckmaschinen und andere Anlagen benötigt würden.

Die Kartellkommission hat die oben angeführte Situation als einen „schweren Konflikt mit öffentlichen Interessen“ betrachtet und ist zum Schluss gelangt, daß die Kartellvereinbarung in der Tat eine Einschränkung der Kartellarten darstellt, die zwischen unabhängigen Unternehmen abgeschlossen werden darf. Infolgedessen wird die Kartellvereinbarung als eine „schwerwiegende Kartellvereinbarung“ betrachtet, die die Kartellarten übersteigt, die Fall unterliegen, weil die Kartellvereinbarung die Bedeutung des Marktes für einen Akteur nicht verringert.¹⁴

Bemerkungen zu einer Zeichnung von Picasso

(bei) Wie schon kurz mitgeteilt, hat der Verein der Freunde des Kunstmuseums Basel eine Zeichnung von Picasso erworben und sie dem Kunstmuseum geschenkt. Es handelt sich um eine eindrucksvolle Studie zu dem Gemälde «Les deux frères», das durch den öffentlichen Verkauf des Bestandes an Werken von Picasso, Sie ist eine der vielen Zeichnungen, die beweisen, daß sich Picasso längere Zeit intensiv mit dem Problem des prächtigen Gemäldes beschäftigte.

Auf der Federzeichnung wird das Brüderpaar von seiner rechten Seite betrachtet, während die fertige Fassung mehr die linke Seite – fast frontal – zeigt. Die Betrachtung der beiden Bilder gibt deutlich wieder, wie der Künstler um die Gruppe herumgegangen ist und die Verwertung der Ausdrucksmöglichkeiten mit dem Stiff (in diesem Fall mit der Feder) festgehalten hat.

Die im Format bescheidene Zeichnung (31x21 cm) wurde an einer Pressekonferenz von Dr. Franz Meyer vorgestellt und Dr. D. Kropplin stellte anschließend seine Ansicht über die zeitlich richtige Eingliederung von Zeichnung und Gemälde zur Diskussion. Diese an und für sich akademische Frage führte ihn dazu, viele Beispiele anhand von Skizzen und Zeichnungen den Interessenten bekannt werden zu lassen.

Er tat dies in einer sehr lockeren Form, die den Zuhörern erfreulichen Spielraum ließ, ihm zu folgen und dennoch zusätzlich eigene Ansichten zu entwickeln.

Der Gelehrtenstreit, ob eine Zeichnung im Juni 1905 oder erst im Januar (16. 10.20 Uhr) 1906 entstanden ist, hat weniger Bedeutung als der Zusammenhang der Skizzen mit dem fertigen Gemälde. Die in Zeichnungen erhaltenen Vorarbeiten zeichnen die gedanklichen und künstlerischen Wege auf, die der Künstler geht, bis er zum fertigen Kunstwerk gelangt. Und dies ist für den Betrachter das Wesentliche.

Insofern ist gerade diese Studie eine wertvolle Bereicherung des Bestandes der Basler Freunde des Kunstmuseums.

VORWARTS

Tatsache ist, daß die Riesensummen kaum in die Hände der schöpferischen Künstler gelangen. Die großen Künstler, die längst schon die Zätlitze gesegnet haben, teilweise buchstäblich verhungert mühen, haben ganz bestimmt keinen Anteil an den Millionen, die für ihre Gemälde bezahlt werden.

Ein Glück war, daß die Studie noch nicht in der höchsten Steigerungs angekauft werden mußte. Heute müßte man bedeutend mehr dafür bezahlen. Glück ist es aber auch, diese Zeichnung als Ergänzung zu dem großen Gemälde zu haben, das dem prächtigen Kunstwerk, das einem harten Kampf brauchte, um unserer öffentlichen Kunstsammlung erhalten zu bleiben.

Schweres Geschütz gegen «Nowi Mir»

Von unserer Moskauer Korrespondentin Anna Drejer

Vor zehn Jahren bezog Rutland seine alte Kultur und Kunst neu zu entdecken. Es begann mit einer Ausstellung des «Lubok» (volkstümlicher Bilder), der bald eine von russischen Holzschnitten und eine ganze Reihe von Ikonen und die Organisation von Wochenendreisen durch Betriebe und Touristenreisen durch die Gewerkschaften zu berühmten Baudenkmalen folgten. Zu dieser Entwicklung trug die Gründung der Gewerkschaft für Denkmalspflege vor fünf Jahren nicht wenig bei. Alte Baudenkmalen und Kunstwerke werden durch Wochenendschriften, Herausgabe neuer Reiseführer und vorzüglich ausgestatteter Kunstbücher populärisiert, viele alte Kirchen und Klöster sowie Festungen restauriert. An diesen Arbeiten beteiligen sich seit drei Jahren in ihren Sommerferien auch Studenten.

Kloster im Weißen Meer. Aus dem Unterbruch nur Museen vieler ethnologische Expeditionen in russische Dörfer veranstalten.

Diese Entwicklung wurde im Juli durch eine Ausstellung aller Kultur und Kunst Rutlands im Zentralen Ausstellungssaal der Hauptstadt, der Marene bekannt. In ihr konnte man schnitzte Giebel, Tore und Fensterstockverzierungen, bunte Frauen-trachten aus dem 19. Jahrhundert, Schmiedearbeiten, Glocken und durch Ausgrabungenutage geförderte Kunstgegenstände, die verheißungsvoll für einen Schlußsatz auf die Bewohner Rutlands besaßen.

Man sah gestickte Messedchen und anderes kunstvolles Kirchengeschloß, bemalte religiöse Holzschnitten, darunter ein aus Kreuz geschnitzter Christus von unglaublicher Ausdruckskraft und eine herrliche Sammlung aller Ikonen aus Susdal, Pskow und Nowgorod, die durch humanistische Darstellung, Farbenpracht und Natürlichkeit entzückten.

In regelmäßigen Abständen begannen die berühmten Kirchenlokale von Rutlow Welikoi auf Schallplätzen aufgenommen zu werden. Abends sang die Jurowochortkapelle, und geistliche Lieder aus dem 18. Jahrhundert. Im Konferenzzaal wurden Dokumentarstreifen über alle Baudenkmalen gezeigt. Wie schade, daß der Rubjofilm von Tarkow-ski dem sowjetischen Publikum vor-enthalten zu bleiben scheint.

Wir werden Zeugen einer bewegten Zeit und eines bereits lebhaften Kulturaustausches, wobei die Einflüsse sich in den Niederlanden, in Burgund und Avignon, ja selbst in Prag, und in Italien vor allem im Norden (Verona, Venedig, Padua, Biogona) geltend machten.

100 Farbproduktionen. 70 Seiten Text. Ist in dieser Reihe der erste Band, der einem einzelnen Künstler gewidmet ist. Und der Herausgeber, Roberto Longhi, zeichnet diesmal gleichzeitig als Verfasser. Dies mag bereits ein Hinweis sein auf die Bedeutung, die Caravaggio in der Geschichte der italienischen Malerei beigemessen wird. Die unermesslich beschriebene Monographie versucht, anhand der Entwicklungen des Künstlers, die Verschiedenheiten in seinen Werken (die verschiedenen Fassungen mancher Bilder) zu erklären. Die kunstwissenschaftler sind sich darin nicht ganz einig, und der Streit darüber, inwieweit eine entwicklungsgeschichtliche Auslegung gerechtfertigt ist, oder ob sie noch weitgehend angewendet werden sollte (ökonomische und gesellschaftliche Einflüsse), geht weiter. Unbestritten ist jedoch, daß Caravaggios Bedeutung in der persönlichen Anwendung der neuen Farb- und Lichttechnik seiner Zeit (des 16. Jahrhunderts) in der Abstraktion von Vielleicht wird der eine oder andere Italienfahrer von seinen Ferien nicht nur Erinnerungen an Sonne, Meer und «dolce far niente», sondern auch solche an Bilder und Fresken mitbringen und den Wunsch verspüren, mehr darüber zu wissen. Dann können wir ihm nur raten, zu einem Kunstband aus der Reihe «Die italienische Malerei» zu greifen. Die unter Leitung von Roberto Longhi gemeinsam von den Editori Kunst in Rom und dem Verlag der Kunst in Dresden herausgegebenen Bände zeichnen sich alle durch eine hervorragende Ausstattung und eine hervorragende Qualität der Farb-

Die neuverworbene Federzeichnung von Picasso. Studie zum Gemälde „Les deux frères“.

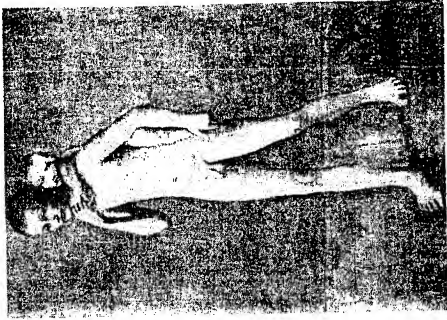

Ist Kuba romanisch?

Der Autor der nachstehenden Betrachtungen ist ein junger Wiener Arbeiter, Ernst Jersek, Maschinenbauer, der als technischer Instruktor seit 1963 am Kubanischen Institut für Entwicklung der Maschinenindustrie Facharbeiter ausbildet.

Vüngst sah ich im Fernsehen eine Sendung über Kuba, in der Fidel Castro als „Romaniker“ und „Romanischer“ bezeichnet wurde. Ich lebe und arbeite seit 14 Jahren in Kuba und kann mir vorstellen, daß hier manches an „Romanisch“ aussehen kann. Die dort Realität ist. In Kuba man das Leben und seine mit anderen Maßstäben ...

Ich gäbe nicht, daß das „Romanische“ ist. Das ist eine Realität, die sich angelebt und bewährt hat.

Resenphotos und Makets alter berühmter Baudenkmäler bewundern wie die Holzkirche in Kischel, die im Augustheft von „Der“ abgebildet sein wird, bemalte Holzgegenstände, Truhen, Wiegen, Schüsseln, Spinnrocken, Pferdeschlitzen usw., re-

Das der Öffentlichkeit Kunstsammlung gehörnde Gemälde (Oel auf Leinwand).

Massen der Arbeiter, Jugendlichen, Studenten und Intellektuellen.

Einige Besonderheiten

Der Weg, den Kuba beschritten hat, ist kein, gemütlicher Spazierweg. Er kostet sehr viel Arbeit und Schweiß und ist ein eigener Weg der viel leicht von bestehenden „Modelle“ des Sozialismus abweicht. Er führte zu einigen Besonderheiten, von denen ich einige nennen will:

Der Mietzins für Wohnungen wird bis 1970 völlig abgeschafft. Zahlreiche Leistungen öffentliche Dienstleistungen sind gratis: öffentliche Telefonate, der Besuch von Sportveranstaltungen, Kinos und Theatern, von Strandbädern, ärztliche und klinische Betreuung, Bestattungskosten, die Unterbringung, Ernährung und Bekleidung von Kindern in Kindergärten, Ausbildung, Ernährung und Kleidung der Schüler höherer Schulen usw.

Ich gäbe nicht, daß das „Romanische“ ist. Das ist eine Realität, die sich angelebt und bewährt hat.

Intelligenz verleiht, anhand von revolutionärer Historiker die Geschichte des zaristischen Rußlands zu studieren, verwandelt sich nach einem Artikel über Tradition und Volkstümlichkeit von Dementiev in „Nowij Mir“ allerdings in literarischen Beiträgen, Gedichten und Prosa der Zeitschrift „Molodaja Gwardia“ in eine abzulehnende slawophile Tendenz. In einem offenen Brief an die illustrierte „Ogonjok“-Zeitung, in dem er wenig bekannte Schriftsteller der Russischen Föderation zwang, daß einige dieser Artikel grobe Fehler enthalten, weisen aber die Anschuldigung, den russischen Messianismus und die Auserwähltheit einer bestimmten Nation gepredigt zu haben, zurück und beschuldigen Dementiev, diese Fehler als Rauchvorhang benutzt zu haben, um das soziale Wesen seiner Ansichten zu propagieren.

Dieser offene Brief, dem auch die Zeitschrift „Literaturnaja Rossiya“ Beifall zollt, stellt den schärfsten Angriff gegen „Nowij Mir“ dar, der seit langer Zeit erhoben wurde. Vorbei „Nowij Mir“ in letzter Zeit fast die einzige Zielscheibe konservativer Kritik geworden ist. Die Unterzeichner werfen „Nowij Mir“ vor, Sinjowski veröffentlicht zu haben, die heroische Vergangenheit des Volkes und seiner Armee schändlich bezweifelt, in Werken von Wolno-

Sie wird als sozialistische Errungenschaft aufgefaßt. Doch das scheint mir nicht das Wesentliche zu sein.

Wesentlicher ist die Ueberzeugung der breitesten Massen, daß Wohlstand nur mit Hilfe des Bewußtseins geschaffen werden kann – und daß Bewußtsein nicht mit Wohlstand erkaufte werden kann. Das ist „Philosophie“. Im Leben heißt das, daß für alle Menarbeit, die geleistet werden muß, um die Entwicklung des Landes zu beschleunigen, nur moralischer Anreiz gegeben werden kann; der Appell an die „Idealismus“-Anreize, so sagt die „Materielle Anreize“, so sagt man, würden nur neues Unrecht schaffen, einen Rückfall in egoistisches Bewußtsein bringen, das den Kapitalismus „auszuleben“. Die „Romaniker“? Nein. Die Massen der Arbeitenden, denen die Revolution soziale Sicherheit, allgemeinen Gesundheitsdienst, allgemeinen Schulbesuch, eine wahre Bildungsrevolution, gesicherten Arbeitsplatz und vieles andere gebracht hat, Nachdem 1961 „Der italienische Manierismus“ und 1964 „Die Anfänge der italienischen Malerei“ erschienen waren, wurde 1966 „Die internationale Gotik in Italien“ und 1968 „Carnavaggio“ herausgegeben. Es sind alles keine Kunstgeschichten im herkömmlichen Sinne, sondern Werke, die sich um eine Neuwertung der Malerei Italiens bemühen und allen Problemen der Geschichte und Kultur ausgedehnt sind. Die Kunsthistoriker und -wissenschaftler mögen sich um die einzelnen Bewertungen streiten. Fest steht, daß diese Bände auch für den Laien zugänglich sind, ja zur spannenden Lektüre werden.

Die internationale Gotik in Italien

In 100 Farbproduktionen, 68 Seiten Text, von Liana Castelfranchi Vegas. Dieser Band umfaßt die italienische Malerei des endenden 14. und des beginnenden 15. Jahrhunderts, und die Verfasserin unternimmt es, die von der gesamten europäischen Gotik beeinflussten Werke in Italien auf ihre besonderen Merkmale und Schönheiten hin zu untersuchen. Das Bildmaterial, darunter sehr hübsche Miniaturen und Buchmalereien, das weitgehend nach Schulen oder Entstehungsorten geordnet ist, dient der Autorin vor allem dazu, die gleichen Charakterdenkt anders. Um den Sozialismus aufzubauen, beschloß sie in Betriebsversammlungen die Abschaffung zahlreicher Überstunden und aller Anakkords und der Prämien. Es gibt nur mehr den Zeitlohn. Und einen „herario por conciencia“, das heißt, eine Arbeitszeit, die die 48-Stunden-Woche überschreitet, ist heute eine Massenerscheinung.

Freiwillige stets zur Stelle

Wenn die Partei bei der Verwirklichung von großen Industrie- und Landwirtschaftsprojekten zur Bildung von Freiwilligenbrigaden aufruft, deren Arbeitszeit unbegrenzt ist und deren Arbeitsbedingungen sehr hart sind, sind Tausende zur Stelle. Ich kann nach meinen Beobachtungen mit ruhigen Gewissen versichern: Sie sind freiwillig und mit Enthusiasmus zur Stelle.

Um nur ein Beispiel unter vielen anzuführen: Als eine britische Firma in Kuba das größte Kunststün-Manierismus und von der altitalienischen Darstellungsweise und in der realistischen Erfassung und Wiedergabe von Personen und Szenen liegt. Sein neuer Stil wird denn auch eine weitreichende Wirkung auf die folgenden Künstlergenerationen, nicht nur Italien, sondern in fast allen europäischen Ländern haben, und selbst noch den sozialistischen Realismus befruchten.

In diese beiden letzten Werke vertieft und die zwei vorhergehenden Bände erneut durchblättern, drängt sich uns unwillkürlich eine Frage auf: Machen sich nicht viele Atheisten, das heißt insbesondere die Geschichts- und Literaturwissenschaftler sozialistischer Länder, um Hinblick auf ein besseres Verständnis der Kunstgeschichte Europas, einerseits die Bibel, deren Geschichten den alten Meistern weitgehend als „Stoff“ für ihre Gemälde dienten ganz und gar aus ihrem Unterricht verbannt? Sollten diese Fragen nicht neu überdacht werden und zum Beispiel die Lektüre der Bibel, als Teil der Kulturgeschichte, gleich den Legenden, Märchen und Sagen, in die Lehrpläne der gegenwärtigen und zukünftigen sozialistischen Mittel- und Hochschulen eingebaut werden, auf daß dieses Kulturgut den späteren Generationen erhalten bleibe?

gerwerk Lateinamerikas zu bauen begann, fehlten vor allem hochqualifizierte Rohr- und Kesselschweißer. Um der Garantie zu genügen, mußten Kubaner zur Ablegung des örtlichen Kesselschweißerexamens ausgebildet werden. Und das in kürzester Frist.

Die Partei rief alle jungen Aktivisten mit Schweißkernissen auf, die bereit waren, bei unbegrenzter Lehr- und Arbeitszeit erstens einen Kurs im Kubanischen Schweißtechnischen Institut zu besuchen, das britische Staatsexamen abzulegen und dann bei der Errichtung der Fabrik in Rekordzeit mitzuarbeiten.

Die Freiwilligen kamen in großer Zahl. In Gruppen zu zwanzig Mann nahmen die Geisteskräftigen teil. Sie an 45tägigen Lehrgängen teil. Sie wurden an modernsten Geräten ausgebildet. Sie arbeiteten täglich zwölf Stunden. Ich sah den Enthusiasmus, mit dem sie die Prüfergebnisse der Zerschnittmaschinen sowie der Ultraschall-, der Röntgen- und Gamma-

TRANSLATION FROM GERMAN

From ~~Vorwaerts~~ (~~Forward~~), a Swiss communist German-language weekly.

August 7, 1969, issue, pages ^{Sum T2} 4 and 5

IS CUBA ROMANTIC?

The author of the following remarks and considerations is a young worker from Vienna. He is a mechanical engineer Ernst Jezek who has been training specialized workers at the Cuban Institute for Development of the Machine Industry since 1963.

* * *

Lately, I saw a telecast about Cuba which presented Fidel Castro as a romanticist and described many facts of life about Cuba as romantic. I have been living and working in Cuba for a few years now and I can see why certain things which in Cuba are "reality" may look "romantic" to the outside world.

In Cuba, life and its values are measured with a different yardstick.

Let us take, for example, Fidel Castro's appeal to the conscience of the people. It is an appeal to the socialist awareness of the masses of workers, youths, students and intellectuals.

A FEW SPECIAL SITUATIONS

The road upon which Cuba has embarked is not ~~the road of an~~ enjoyable walk. It costs a great deal of work and sweat, and is a road which is Cuba's own road, probably somewhat diverging from the existing "models" of socialism. It has already led to certain special situations, of which I would like to mention a few:

Home rents have been abolished until 1970. Numerous public services are free of charge: public telephones; attendance at sporting events; movies and theaters; visits to the beaches; medical and clinical attention; funeral costs; attendance, food and clothing for children in kindergartens; attendance, food and clothing of school children in higher schools, etc.

I do not believe that this is romantic. This is a reality which has taken hold and proven itself. It is called a socialist achievement. But, to me, this definition appears to fall short of the essential.

A more essential aspect is the conviction of the masses that a condition of well-being can be brought about only with the help of conscience and that conscience cannot be bought with a condition of well-being. This is philosophy. In life, this means that all extra work which must be performed in order to speed up the development of the country can receive only moral stimulation; hence, the appeal to idealism and to the "conscience."

Material stimulus - it is pointed out - would create only new injustices, a relapse into the egotistical motivation which is the hallmark of capitalism.

Is this romantic? No. The masses of the workers - to whom the Revolution has given social security, public health service, general school attendance, a true cultural revolution, year-round work and much more - think otherwise. In order to further the construction of socialism, the Cuban workers - through their factory committees - decided to eliminate all overtime pay and every kind of incentive, from piece work to special awards. The only thing which is left is straight pay. However, the work week is made up of "conscience work hours," which means that working in excess of 48 hours a week is now a mass development.

PLENTY OF VOLUNTEERS

Whenever the Party needs manpower to implement major industrial and agricultural projects and calls for the formation of volunteer brigades, with working hours practically unlimited and very rough working conditions, volunteers report by the thousand. From my own observation, I can state with a clear conscience that they are true volunteers, always full of enthusiasm.

Let me cite only one example. A British company had started construction of a fertilizer plant in Cuba, the largest in Latin America. However, there was an acute shortage of qualified steamfitters and boiler welders, a highly specialized trade. In order to live up to the guarantees of the job, all workers hired in Cuba had to be trained to pass the British steamfitter examination. And there was a deadline. A very short one.

The Party called on all young activists who had some experience in welding, urging them to attend - by putting in unlimited study and work hours - a course at the Cuban Institute for Welding Techniques, in order to take the British State exam and, after passing it, work at the construction of the facility in record time.

Volunteers responded in large numbers. The best qualified of them took the 45-day course in groups of twenty men each. They were trained to use the latest equipment and methods. They worked twelve hours a day. I saw the enthusiasm with which they expected the final results of their exams in operating tension measuring devices and ultrasound, ex-ray and gamma-ray equipment. They passed the British exam with flying colors and are now at work - working "conscience" hours - at the construction of the fertilizer plant which must start production by 1971.

THE "RICE" EXAMPLE

Production of fertilizers is of extreme importance to the development of Cuban agriculture. Since Cuba's only advantage is a climate which is exceedingly favorable to farming endeavors, the job at hand was to put forth the greatest effort in this area in order to overcome the underdevelopment of the country.

Let us go into a few important examples. The staple food in Cuba's diet is rice. Until 1960, approximately 70% of the rice consumed in Cuba was imported from Burma and a few South American countries. After the American economic blockade, rice could only be imported from the People's Republic of China. In 1965, China let it be known that it was no longer in a position to deliver rice in the desired quantity. As a result of this announcement, the rice ration per capita was cut in half. At the same time, a start was made toward turning large areas of wasteland and jungle into arable land.

Today, after tremendous efforts on the part of the "Che Guevara Brigade," which went to work on the wasteland with squads of volunteer "shock" workers and heavy bulldozers, the situation is altogether different. The planting of rice is done by dropping the seed from airplanes. Pest and weed control is done in the same way. The crop is brought in with the most modern combines.

As of this year, the rice ration has been doubled and, as of next year, Cuba will no longer need to import rice from abroad.

THIS YEAR

Also this year - like all other years - has been given a special name. This year is "the Year of the Decisive Effort." The whole country is taking part, this year, in the sugar campaign. The plan calls for a sugar crop of at least 10 million tons. If we bear in mind that in the past the harvesting of the sugar cane only lasted three months, whereas now it is a year-round operation, we can appreciate the giant effort which is being made. However, this giant effort must be extended also to coffee, bananas and citrus fruits because Cuba needs means of payment for the imports which are required for its technical development.

There is still an important point to be mentioned. In all countries of South and Central America, most children - especially those who live in rural areas - have no fresh milk. The children's mortality rate from malnutrition reaches an appalling percentage of the growing-age population. In the past, the same conditions prevailed in Cuba. Today, every child has fresh milk to drink every day of the year.

What kind of enormous difficulties had to be overcome to accomplish this can only be surmised after learning that Cuban cattle - a zebu breed which originated in Africa - yields practically no milk. Only after importing bulls of the Holstein breed and establishing more than three thousand artificial-insemination stations was it possible to breed a new race of dairy cattle, rugged enough and fully capable of withstanding Cuba's climatic conditions. In a few years, this "revolution" in cattle breeding - Cuba's cattle population is now in excess of seven million - will bear its full fruit.

All this work is being done by the present Cuban generation under the most strenuous conditions without any thought of "special payments" or other personal special treatment. Che Guevara's words to the effect that a real revolution excludes any form of personal egotism are not "romanticism," but a reality in Cuba today.

Re Miami letter to the Bureau, 8/7/69.

interviewed 8/20/69, and advised substantially the same information in her letter to Congressman PAUL ROGERS. She stated the Cuban family she has been talking to is her neighbor [REDACTED]. He has never told her specifically of any spies coming to the U. S. from Cuba, but stated it would be very easy for CASTRO to send spies from Cuba on a Freedom Flight.

y b7C

[REDACTED] advised on 9/6/69, that he has been in the U. S. since 1960. He advised he and his family have become very close to [REDACTED] and he has mentioned in their conversations that CASTRO could send spies to the U. S. on Freedom Flights and after completing their mission the spies could hijack planes back to Cuba. He stated he has mentioned this to [REDACTED] in general conversation and never had any specific incident in mind.

Re: FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CUBA

[REDACTED] an experienced investigator, who maintains contact with many newly arriving Cuban refugees and with some sources still in Cuba, furnished the following information on August 27, 1969. b2 b7D

[REDACTED], a native of B. APPROX [REDACTED] about [REDACTED] years old, who worked for many years for [REDACTED] known as [REDACTED] in Cuba, arrived in the United States on [REDACTED] b7C

He is [REDACTED] of Dr. GUSTAVO ALDEREGUIA LIMA, a well known surgeon, a specialist in respiratory diseases, and an old guard member of the Communist Party of Cuba, who was one of the first designated ministers of Cuba to Yugoslavia after the CASTRO takeover January 1, 1959. b7C

[REDACTED] stated GUSTAVO ALDEREGUIA LIMA has [REDACTED] who opposes the CASTRO Government and is in difficulty because of this opposition; and [REDACTED] who did [REDACTED] but who is completely integrated in the Revolution and is now [REDACTED] b2 b7C D are practically unnecessary and the management of industry is very frequently handled by individuals with no education at all. The consequence of this method of Government operation harms the few industries in operation and brings about a production approximately equal to one half of what each industry was designed to produce.

[REDACTED] with the above background of [REDACTED] and from a divided family, part of which favors and part of which opposes the CASTRO Regime, furnished the following information: b7C

The principal, and practically the only requirement to manage an important industry in Cuba today is absolute loyalty to the Communist Party and the Revolution. Almost none of the factories and industries know, or can furnish, the cost of production. Inventories are sketchy and most balance sheets are inaccurate. The only time industries are required to give data on production is when FIDEL CASTRO is going to address the nation on radio or television or talk to some visiting dignitary. Since companies do not have any such information they simply produce figures that will give a completely false report designed to show that production has increased and cost has decreased.

False Statistics and Reports

The managers of industries produce entirely false reports on the voluntary overtime performed by the employees who work in the factories. [REDACTED] stated a typical example is what happened in an industry where he worked. Fifteen employees worked in one department and spent the entire day doing nothing because their particular industry was paralyzed. They remained on their jobs so they could collect their pay at the end of the month. Periodically, members of the Union of Communist Youth (UJC) would appear and ask the workers to volunteer not less than three hours overtime per day. The workers answered truthfully that they had done absolutely nothing for eight hours and asked how they could possibly stay an additional three hours under those conditions. They UJC answered that it did not matter and that they should stay an additional three hours

b7c

from 5 P.M. to 8 P.M. so that this extra number of voluntary overtime hours would appear in their files.

[REDACTED] stated the above seems nonsensical and indeed strange, but it is true. b7C

Export of Best Products

[REDACTED] stated that [REDACTED] stated that there are a few of the formerly good American companies such as Crusellas, a subsidiary of Colgate-Palmolive Peet, where fine soap and perfumes were made which still produce relatively good products. None of these are ever sold on the domestic market but are exported to countries who can pay for these products in dollars. b2 b7C D

[REDACTED] furnished the following information on September 5, 1969. It was based principally on information received from [REDACTED] by profession, a native of [REDACTED] in the Central Division of the National Police of Cuba and a graduate of Cuba's Academy at El Morro. He was dismissed from the police in March, 1952 when FULGENCIO BATISTA took over the Government from PRIO SOCARRAS. b2 b7C D

[REDACTED] remained in the United States from 1952 until 1959. He admittedly belonged to the July 26th Movement and worked to help overthrow the BATISTA Regime. However, he very quickly became disillusioned with the CASTRO Regime and spent the last four years endeavoring to leave Cuba. b7C

Military Preparation

[REDACTED] stated the Cuban Government has many camouflaged military installations in Havana and surrounding suburbs. He could give no reason for it but stated many of them are located close to b7C schools, hospitals and certain public recreation centers. He thought this might actually be from political design so that in the event the United States or any one else attacks Cuba and such schools or hospitals are inadvertently hit, CASTRO will be able to use this as political propaganda.

[REDACTED] stated the Government is cutting down palm trees and all others with thick trunks around such areas so that tanks may move more rapidly, and so that persons who are experts in anti-tank warfare can not hide behind the trees and use explosives to destroy the tanks. b7C

Prison Breaks

[REDACTED] stated that in mid July, 1969, there were various mass breakouts from a number of prisons in Cuba including Mayari, Puerto Boniato, and Palma Soriano. Allegedly, these prison breaks were all effected with the help and connivance of a large number of the guards. In the breaks from Palma Soriano, at least 150 prisoners were able to escape into the mountains. b7C

These breaks have allegedly caused the Government to remove country people from isolated areas and concentrate them in small villages. In this way the Government plans to keep such people from giving protection, food, water and medicine to those who have escaped and taken refuge in the mountains. These are the very people who gave such aid and assistance to FIDEL CASTRO and his rebel army when they were harassing the BATISTA Government.

Cuban Observation Boats

Re: FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CUBA

As a part of the political maneuvers of the Cuban Government, the Cuban Navy maintains ships which allegedly study the ocean bottom off the coast of Cuba, and principally in the direction of the United States. [REDACTED] is personally acquainted with a Cuban Navy officer who has stated that these ships actually perform espionage work in the waters of the Gulf and get as close to the territorial waters of the United States as they possibly can. The boats are allegedly well equipped with scientific apparatus, and technicians trained by Russia and Soviet Satellite countries.

b7C

Doctor RENE VALLEJO Allegedly Shot

Although the Cuban Government has officially acknowledged the death of Dr. RENE VALLEJO, personal physician of FIDEL CASTRO, the official version is that he died from a stroke and blood clot. [REDACTED] stated that a near neighbor, [REDACTED] for [REDACTED] of Dr. RENE VALLEJO, [REDACTED] was allegedly told by [REDACTED] that [REDACTED] died from a blood clot which was caused by a bullet wound and that the wound was actually accidentally inflicted by FIDEL CASTRO.

b7C

[REDACTED] alleged that there were frequent meetings attended by CASTRO and the highest ranking members of his Government. On one of these occasions CASTRO was told that he would have to give more attention to the problem of supplies for the Cuban people as the acute scarcities could cause a popular uprising and even if controlled there might be so many dead that it would cause a backlash against the Cuban Government.

b7C

Allegedly, CASTRO was insulted and pulled a gun which he always carried loaded and with safety off.

Re: FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CUBA

Dr. VALLEJO was allegedly trying to calm CASTRO when the pistol went off, the shot hit Dr. VALLEJO, and subsequently caused his death. [REDACTED] stated he had no confirmation of this but it was the version given him by [REDACTED] for [REDACTED]

SAC LETTER 69-11

(C) FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CUBA (TREATMENT OF HIJACKERS BY CUBANS) -- Hijacking of U. S. planes to Cuba has become a nationwide problem and, from an intelligence standpoint, Bureau and other intelligence agencies are vitally interested in true facts as to treatment of the hijackers while they are under Cuban Government control. Also of interest is information pertaining to use of hijackers for anti-U. S. propaganda purposes while in Cuba, their knowledge of treatment afforded other hijackers and, of course, any assignments to be undertaken by the hijackers on behalf of the Cuban Government upon their return to the U. S.

Disillusioned hijackers are beginning to return from Cuba and we cannot anticipate their method or port of entry. Thus, all investigative personnel are to be made aware of these matters and, during interviews of returned hijackers, Agents are to cover the items outlined herein.

To expedite handling at the Bureau, instant caption is to be utilized in reporting these specific items and the material is to be submitted in a form suitable for dissemination with the method of transmittal being governed by the timeliness of the information developed.

ENCLOSURE

The communist penetration of the Afro-Asian solidarity movement has been gaining ground since 1953 when the Kremlin, launching its post-Stalin policies, concentrated its efforts on exploiting rising nationalism and neutralism in Asia and Africa against the West.

Since then, communism has never abandoned this tactic which calls for taking advantage of the various attempts made by the states of the Third World to evade the confrontation between blocs and safeguard their independence.

As a matter of fact, communism has also tried to profit from the rivalries among chiefs of governments ambitious enough to lay claim to leadership of tentative groupings.

On its part, communist propaganda has been making political mileage out of the desire for peace, the opposition to military pacts and the aspirations of decolonization to political, social and cultural advancement.

Special efforts have been made by the Kremlin to alienate the allegiance of the people to officials of the newly-independent states who engage in organizational efforts in order to switch it to so-called "popular forces and mass organizations."

In 1957, taking advantage of the fact that the national liberation movements had given signs of increasingly greater and more concrete activities, communism developed the themes of anticolonism and anti-imperialism. Thus, "Afro-Asiatism" evolved toward a more aggressive form as a result of the leadership roles passing from the hands of the governments of the states of Asia, Africa and Near East into the hands of delegates of the people chosen from the ranks of the extremists and mass organizations.

In December, 1957, the Solidarity Organization of the Peoples of Africa and Asia (O.S.P.A.A.) held its first session in Cairo, Egypt. Even though the Cairo meetings were the successors to the meetings held at Colombo in 1954 and at Bandung in 1955 by African and Asian leaders, the sponsors and most notable attendants of the Cairo Meetings were easily identifiable with the leaders of the World Peace Movement under Moscow's control.

Somewhat thwarted in the beginning by the resistance of noncommunist elements and by the anti-Soviet influence of President Nasser, international communism was not able to get the upper hand, at first, within the O.S.P.A.A. It had to wait for the evolution of the progressive nations of the Near East and the withdrawal of Guinea from the French Community before it was able to establish its predominance, which happened at the Casakry Conference.

However, this predominance suffered from the after-effects of the ideological and political conflict between Moscow and Peking. Despite certain attempts at reconciliation, control of the O.S.P.A.A. became a political prize and the object of constant maneuvering on the part of the USSR and Communist China.

The advent of Cuba on the political scene and the expansion of the Afro-Asian movement to Latin America led to the establishment of the Tricontinental Organization for Solidarity Among Peoples (O.T.S.P.) and of the Latin American Solidarity Organization (O.L.A.S.) which gave Cuba a leading role in 1967.

These new organizations with the Latin Americans in a leading role are, however, the continuation of previous initiatives and do not run counter to the Soviet desire of fostering a certain degree of unity among anti-West movements. Confronted with the Peking challenge, Moscow seems to have made an unsuccessful attempt to use Fidel Castro's prestige toward strengthening its positions with subversive movements throughout the Third World.

On their part, the Cubans are believed to have obtained a more or less silent recognition by the Soviets of their leading role in Latin America.

Consequently, the O.S.P.A.A., whose headquarters is in Cairo, and the O.T.S.P. and the O.L.A.S., both located in Havana, continue to remain, on the whole, subject to the control of international communism and still constitute one of the essential tools of international communist propaganda and anti-West activities.

Despite the fact that Trotskyites and pro-Chinese elements stir a great deal of agitation within these organizations and promote activities conflicting with their tactics, there is no question that a Moscow-inspired leadership is currently predominant in Cairo and that the orientation in Havana is essentially Cuban. However, since the Cairo organization is much too tarnished by the undertakings of the United Arab Republic and is losing ground with world public opinion, all activities seem to concentrate in Havana.

The following chart is intended to show the progressive advance of communism toward controlling the "Solidarity Movement of the Peoples of the Third World."

Chart Showing the Development of the Communist Advance Toward Controlling the Afro-Asian Movement

Translator's Note: In the original French document, this chart is prepared on large-sized paper divided into three columns. The first column shows "Developments in the International Situation." The second column shows "Organizational Attempts in the Third World." The third column shows so-called "Communist Maneuvers." The purpose of the chart is to give a graphic illustration of the time element, relating the 3 aspects to the period of time in which they occurred. In this translation, the reader is kindly asked to bear in mind that the 3 categories of events occur contemporarily, in the period of time shown as headline.

COLOMBO Conference

April 5, 1954

The chiefs of government of Burma, Ceylon, India, Indonesia and Pakistan gathered in Colombo to look for means to hasten the end of the conflict in Indo-China which threatened to overflow in Asia.

Except for Pakistan, a member of the Organization of the Southeast Asia Treaty, these nations turned down the idea of military pacts and launched the idea of an Afro-Asian Conference.

India and Indonesia played a predominant role. An Afro-Asian group was formed at the United Nations Organization.

The objective was to preserve the independence of the Asian states, to avoid provoking Peking in South Asia and to avert possible internal subversion whose instruments could be the Communist Parties controlled or inspired by China.

The Colombo Conference extended into the

BOGOR Meeting
late December 1954

At first, the leading role was played by President Nehru who recommended inviting Communist China to the scheduled Afro-Asian gathering and also other countries which were not members of the United Nations Organization, such as Sudan, the Gold Coast (future Ghana) and the African Federation.

No mention was made of extending the invitation to the USSR and to the Soviet Republics of Asia.

The Bogor Conference scheduled the Afro-Asian Conference for April, 1955, in Bandung.

Afro-Asian Conference at Bandung
April, 1955

Participants: The following countries joined Communist China:

- Eight noncommunist countries

Ethiopia, Iraq, Liberia, Pakistan, The Philippines, Siam, Turkey (sic)

- Eight neutralist countries:

Afghanistan, Saudi Arabia, Egypt, Indonesia,
Sudan, Syria, Yemen (sic)

- A group of countries with less defined positions:

Burma, Cambodia, Ceylon, Japan, Jordan, Laos,
Lebanon, Libya, Morocco, Nepal, Tunisia.

Major Resolutions:

- respect for the sovereignty and territorial integrity of all nations.
- recognition of the equality of all independent and sovereign nations.
- Noninterference in the internal affairs of another country.
- Refusal to subscribe to collective defense arrangements designed to serve the particular interests of major powers.
- Settlement of all international conflicts by peaceful means.

Establishment of an Afro-Asian Solidarity Committee with Headquarters in New Delhi.

Communist Maneuvers:

The Colombo gathering directed the attention of the USSR and Communist China to opportunities for regional cooperation within South and Southeast Asia. These powers made efforts to channel, to their advantage, the neutralist pronouncements of the Colombo nations.

The USSR and China tried to overbid one another.

Moscow suggested a positive neutralism doctrine whose ulterior motives were:

- to take advantage of the pacifist mood in order to detach these states from the West.
- to keep them from forming a third bloc.
- to bring them into the socialist camp by involving them in the struggle for peace.

The USSR, anticipating the Nager Conference by a few days, called together an Asiatic Conference for Relaxation of International Tension at New Delhi.

In 1954, a meeting was held by the Peace Congress, at Stockholm, Sweden.

The delegates of the 14 nations gathered at New Delhi were, for the most part, communist.

Despite India's protests, China tried to present this meeting as a preliminary meeting to the Bandung meeting. Nevertheless, the conference created a permanent organization called and a number of regional committees whose establishment was supposed to give effectiveness to the Commission.

Asian Solidarity Commission

By the round-about way of the regional committees, the USSR joined the Afro-Asian Solidarity Organization. The purpose of the USSR was to turn the committees into "relays" of the Peace Committee.

The Bandung Conference was a moderate success of the neutralists. In fact, while the neutralists established the foundation of a Third World organization, China used the conference as a pretext for the condemnation of military pacts and for an exaltation, in the text of the communique, of the triumph of the communist theses on the subject of colonialism and disarmament.

Moreover, the contacts made in Bandung proved conducive to bringing the communist world and the Arab world together, a "rapprochement" which led to the crisis in the Near East.

CHOW En-lai invited the leaders of India, Indonesia, and North Vietnam to Peking.

COMITE DE DEFENSA DE LA REVOLUCION (CDR) (COMMITTEE TO DEFEND THE REVOLUTION:

On October 14, 1969, the following information was furnished by [REDACTED] an individual acquainted with certain phases of pro- and anti-FIDEL CASTRO activities in Cuba and the United States:

On September 28, 1960, the Committee to Defend the Revolution was established. During the evening of September 28, 1960, FIDEL CASTRO gave a speech against the United States which was against the United States "Imperialists", the crowd yelled, "Firing squad, firing squad. . ." That same evening, the CDR was officially established. Their members were to report to the Department of Investigation of the Revolutionary Army, (DIER), any suspicion concerning anyone who might possibly be involved in counterrevolutionary activities.

On April 23, 1961, FIDEL CASTRO advised the people of Cuba about the failure of the invasion of Playa Giron and he congratulated the Rebel Army for their valor and heroic comportment. He also congratulated the CDR for their cooperation in helping to arrest suspect residents in the various suburbs and not permitting anyone to leave their home, etc., throughout the island. At this time, there were reportedly 100,000 revolutionary vigilantes who were members of the Cuban militia. The CDR only had 8,000 members at this time.

On April 17, 1961, the Cuban Army of Liberation unsuccessfully attempted to invade and overthrow the FIDEL CASTRO revolutionary government of Cuba at Playa Giron, Cuba.

On September 28, 1962, CASTRO instituted the use of ration books and placed their distribution and control under the direction of the CDR. On September 28, 1963,

[REDACTED] b7C
He pointed out the success of the CDR had been achieved through their excellent work as neighborhood spies. Many persons had been arrested for not having cooperated with the regime and/or as counterrevolutionaries as a result of the work by the CDR.

On September 28, 1964, the "Year of Economy", CASTRO praised the members of the CDR for their cooperation with the Ministry of Public Health in the national anti-polio campaign and their work in farm-labor education.

On September 28, 1966, the "Year of Support", CASTRO spoke to the CDR of the First Tri-Continental Conference, the anti-Imperialist revolutions and the "heroic people of Viet Nam. At this time, he requested the CDR members to begin a campaign throughout the island to obtain blood donations to be sent to Viet Nam. The CDR responded "here, Fatherland or Death, we will conquer" without neglecting their revolutionary vigilance.

On September 28, 1967, CASTRO, in a speech, stated the CDR had 2,215,219 members. He expressed his gratitude to the CDR for having worked so diligently to aid the cause of the revolution.

[REDACTED] advised it was not believed this figure was correct but the CDR is one of the organizations which has

BLACK PANTHER PARTY, Also Known as Black Panther Party for Self-Defense

According to its official newspaper, the Black Panther Party (BPP) was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by Bobby Seale, BPP Chairman, and Huey P. Newton, BPP Minister of Defense. Newton was sentenced in 1968 to serve 2 to 15 years after being convicted of manslaughter in connection with the killing of an Oakland police officer.

The official newspaper, "The Black Panther," which further describes itself as the "Black Community News Service," states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to in the publication as "pigs" who should be killed.

"The Black Panther" issue of September 7, 1968, contains an editorial by BPP Minister of Education, George Mason Murray, which ends with the following:

"Black men. Black people, colored persons of America, revolt everywhere! Arm yourselves. The only culture worth keeping is a revolutionary culture. Change. Freedom everywhere. Dynamite! Black Power. Use the gun. Kill the pigs everywhere."

Included in the introduction to an article appearing in the October 5, 1968, edition of "The Black Panther" is the statement "...we will not dissent from American Government. We will overthrow it."

Issues of "The Black Panther" regularly contain quotations from the writings of Chairman Mao Tse-tung of the People's Republic of China and feature Mao's statement that "political power grows out of the barrel of a gun."

The national headquarters of the BPP is located at 3106 Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley, California. Branches have been established at various locations throughout the United States.

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

A source has advised that the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. From an initial ideological posture of "participatory democracy," the current line of the national leadership reveals an adherence to Marxism-Leninism. [REDACTED] b7C

[REDACTED] in March, 1969, called for the building of a revolutionary Marxist-Leninist movement. The program of SDS has moved from involvement in civil rights struggles to an anti-Vietnam war position and finally to its present advocacy of an anti-imperialist line, linking up the oppressed peoples of Asia, Africa and Latin America with the black liberation movement in the United States. China, Vietnam and Cuba are regarded as countries which are leading the worldwide struggles against United States imperialism. On the other hand, SDS regards the Soviet Union as an imperialist power and does not support the policies of that country.

SDS maintains a National Office in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois. Its official paper "New Left Notes" shows the line of the national leadership and program adopted at meetings of the National Council and National Interim Committee (NIC). Three national officers and a NIC of eleven members are elected each year during a June National Convention.

SDS Regional Offices and university and college chapters elect delegates to National Council meetings wherein program and ideology are debated, but each Region and chapter is autonomous in nature and is free to carry out independent policy and programs reflective of local conditions.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

It is felt that the Bureau may find this total rebuttal of the statements of the members of the AFSC as timely and opportune at this time and perhaps the Bureau may wish to call it to the attention of the State Department and even higher administrative officials who may be swayed by the biased and false report of the AFSC who certainly have some personal or political gain in mind when they present such a report as the one which was printed in "The Miami Herald".

One copy of this LHM is being furnished locally to CIA and INS who daily engage in the debriefing of about 200 refugees at the Caribbean Admission Center, Miami. A copy is being placed in instant Miami file and also in Miami files 110-5 (Economic Matters - Cuba), and 105-2881 (Social Conditions - Cuba), since the matters reported are not only political in nature, but have far reaching effects on the social conditions and economic conditions in Cuba.

Re: FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CUBA

FALSE QUAKER AND METHODIST REPORTS

On November 6, 1969, "The Miami Herald" published an article by Peter Laine of its Washington Bureau, allegedly based on the report of a Quaker group and a Methodist pastor described as staff workers of the American Friends Service Committee (AFSC).

The four visitors were allegedly in Cuba from October 6 to October 31 as guests of a government agency. They allegedly went to all six provinces and were allowed to roam unescorted.

The Quakers reported that Premier Fidel Castro's government has made food, housing, clothing, medical care and education available to everyone for the first time in Cuban history.

Spokesman Russell Johnson of the AFSC, New England, said Cuba feels "identity with guerrilla movements everywhere", but is not exporting revolution, as President Nixon put it last week. Among other things, the group reported the Cubans regard the United States blockade as an unjust and illegal weapon against their sovereignty.

Methodist Pastor William Jeffries of the AFSC's Greensboro, North Carolina, Regional Office, said church-state relations in Cuba have improved since the 1963-64 tension, and the attitude toward religion has been increasingly one of tolerance and the Government has been "surprisingly accomodating".

The article stated the AFSC will share its findings with members of Congress and State Department officials.

This is a program now being used by the Cuban Government under which some prisoners are being released on a conditional basis. According to [REDACTED] this is now the standard procedure for handling most long term prisoners (that is, prisoners serving ten to twenty year sentences). Under this program those released conditionally are required to submit to supervision in a manner similar to those released from prison on parole in the United States.

(S) It is felt that an insight into the true relationship between the Cuban Government and one, the Soviet Union; two, Communist China; three, the satellite countries; and four, the Cuban people, would assist us considerably in our approach to the Cuban problem.

We note the Politburo of the Cuban Communist Party (PCC) is comprised of Fidel and Raul Castro, Osvaldo Dorticos, [REDACTED]

The PCC Secretariat consists of Fidel and Raul Castro, Dorticos, long-time Communist Party leader Blas Roca, [REDACTED] and Carlos Rafael Rodriguez. Outside of Cuba, the only individuals among both groups who are relatively well known are the Castro brothers, Dorticos, Blas Roca and Carlos Rafael Rodriguez. The only other individual in the Cuban Government known to have any international stature would be Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa, who obviously has no wide appeal to the Cuban public. b1 b3

In recent months, there have been recurring reports that Fidel Castro is using his preoccupation with the sugar harvest as a deliberate excuse to ignore Soviet and satellite dignitaries as well as others whom he would be expected to treat with some deference under normal circumstances. We know Fidel Castro has continued to involve himself financially and militarily in other Latin American countries as well as the Congo, apparently against the desires of Soviet officials. At the same time, he obviously feels the Soviets will tolerate considerable free-wheeling on his part as long as he maintains a communist bastion off the shores of the U. S. Realizing the expediency of the situation from the Soviet standpoint, the apparently solid entrenchment after eleven ruling years of a relatively young and vigorous Fidel Castro gives very little basis for speculating that he will be dispossessed without some unusual occurrence which cannot be foreseen at the present.

From a long-range viewpoint, however, it is obvious the Soviets and the Cubans must be in position to move swiftly should Fidel relinquish his authority voluntarily or be deposed in some manner. Of course, an event of this magnitude would have a definite bearing on future planning of our Cuban investigations.

Senegal: The Ultimate Provocation

The president of Senegal, Leopold Sedar Senghor, publically denounced the antigovernmental propaganda disseminated in connection with the commemoration of the African Independence Party's tenth anniversary. Senghor stated the pamphlets were originally printed in Cuba.

At this time the OSPAAAL, the tricontinental organization which has its headquarters in Cuba, [accused the United States Central Intelligence Agency of forging its documents and violating its mail with the obvious purpose of breaking Cuban relations with the countries of the Third World.]

The article cites Senegal as only one of a series of similar incidents perpetrated by the CIA.

Rockefeller: Anti-imperialistic Trigger

This article is a reiteration of Nelson Rockefeller's South American tour and its consequences.

His trip is described as "disastrous, inopportune, absurd" and "served essentially to light the fuse of the anti-imperialistic belligerence of the Latin-American people." According to this article, Rockefeller represents the "common enemy" against which even opposing groups became united.

UN: The Dollar Loans to Cuba

Cuba, as an independent candidate, was elected to fill one of the two vacancies on the Administrative Council of the Development Program (PNUD). This publication considers this a significant victory because "the diplomatic scaffolding, constructed by the United States within the United Nations in order to extend the economic blockade to strangle the Cuban Revolution was suddenly demolished."

The Four Winds

Challenging Period

As newly elected President, Richard Nixon offered to give Latin America "first priority". A month passed before the man who should have been in charge of American and Latin American relations appeared. Even after Charles A. Meyer was appointed Secretary of Latin American affairs, the inconsistencies did not cease. The Rockefeller mission was classified in the annals of political turpitude.

This article attributes the growing Latin American dissatisfaction with the U.S. to these and other examples of the present administration's actions with regard to Latin America.

Cuba's Conditions

The United States must comply with certain conditions before Cuba will consider re-establishing diplomatic relations. The U.S. not only must cease its blockade of Cuba, but its attitude toward the world in general must be one of respect and peace. Cuba does not expect the United States to change its socio-economic regime yet, however, it must cease being a police officer for the entire world.

Saigon: The Exodus of the Wealthy

"The residential section of Saigon is an oasis for foreigners and a few local wealthy families."

According to this article, however, the oasis is rapidly drying up due to the "war of liberation" and there is a panicky atmosphere of stampede.

The majority of the upper echelon is moving to Europe. The wife of President Nguyen Van Thieu bought a home in Switzerland and sent her three children to Rome. The wife of Cao Van Vien, the chief of staff, sent their three children to Switzerland. This publication finds the situation ironical in that Thieu is attempting to "Vietnamize" the war, while his family is becoming "Europeanized".

This article consists of the opinions of Cuban citizens from various walks of life on the recent United States moon landing. The opinions vary from favorable to hostile. Examples of these would be:

Alfonso Valdes, laboratory assistant: "I am pleased and satisfied by this feat, no matter who achieved it."

Milagros Jaime, university student: "I think that ^{the} money should have been used to combat poverty in the backward nations and in the United States itself."

"Cuba Internacional" interviewed four American University professors during their stay in Cuba. Martin Diskin is a professor of social anthropology at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Karen Spaulding is a Latin American History professor at Rutgers University. She has participated in the organization of anti-war groups and university integration. John McDermott is a writer and visiting professor of political science at MIT. Roberta Salper is a professor of Latin American and Spanish literature and the next assistant dean at the University of Pittsburgh.

In the interview, they evaluate the youth of their country and the events which are now taking place there: hippies, Panthers, Watts, police, the pill, universities and LMD.

The following examples are indicative of the type of questions and answers to be found in the interview.

CUBA Int: Do you wish to make any further comment on the youth movement?

Spaulding: I find it interesting to point out that as the movement has grown, there has been a greater participation of secondary school students. I know a 16 year old youth who, together with some others in New York, is publishing a magazine against the war in Vietnam and the draft. Many older persons are doing the same thing, but these youths are given more attention by the police and the government. For example, people from the FBI follow them everyday. This is significant in that they think these young boys constitute a new and potentially great threat.

CUBA Int: What possibilities of unity do you see for the different organizations of the American left?

Spaulding: I think that two things are happening at once: different divisions, but also an awareness that to obtain power there is a need to unite and have a common pathway, party and direction. There is a recent effort: the Black Panthers organized a meeting in California to deal with this problem of unity. They proposed a front and I believe that someday we will have to reach it if we truly aspire to power.

CUBA Int: What about the leaders?

Salper: We need leaders. In the first place they're killing all our leaders: they killed Malcolm X who could have been great. They killed Luther King, they killed him on another level not in accordance with us (sic). Carmichael, according to evidence, was marked for death. Cleaver, of the Black Panthers, is extremely intelligent. What will happen is that if he goes beyond his ghetto or tries to organize more than 100 Panthers, then they will kill him too.
